Request Additional Military Money

Washington, Oct. 13 (AP)—The present Congress has broken the peacetime record for the amount of money appropriated and still has four big appropriations to handle before it adjourns.

Two bills passed by the Senate and sent to the White House yesterday raised to $71,136,000,000 total funds approved thus far to run the government in the current fiscal year.

The previous high mark outside of a war year was $61,000,000,000 in fiscal 1951 which ended last June 30. The all-time record was set in fiscal 1943 in the midst of World War 2. Appropriations that year totaled $147,000,000,000.

The remaining four bills would add about $14,000,000,000 to the total already approved in the nine measures sent to President Truman.

Although this would take appropriations for fiscal 1952 up to the $85,000,000,000 mark, the Treasury estimates that actual spending for the year will run between $68,000,000,000 and $73,000,000,000. This is because many military items such as airplanes on which work is started in this fiscal year will not be completed and not paid for until much later.

Largest Peace Bill

One of the bills sent to the White House yesterday—the $36,937,808,030 military money measure—was the largest peacetime appropriations bill ever passed by Congress. And there have been hints the Pentagon will be back soon after Congress meets in January with a request for a supplemental appropriation for the armed services.

The other measure approved yesterday was a $1,042,867,887 bill carrying funds for the State, Commerce and Justice Departments and the Judiciary.

The Republicans made a fight on this one but it passed by a close margin of 51-47 on a straight party line vote, 31 to 27.

Senators Ferguson (R-Mich.) and others objected because the conferees on this bill had knocked out a Senate section making a 25 per cent cut in public relations personnel for the three departments.

Ferguson said the cut was in all the other appropriations bills and that there was no reason it should not apply to all departments.

Up to Senate

Action on the four remaining money bills mainly is up to the Senate and its appropriations committee headed by 82-year-old Senator McKellar (D-Tenn.).

If the committee acts promptly on two of the measures, the law—(Continued on Page 10, Col. 3)

Would Require Tests

Washington, Oct. 13 (AP)—An expert from the U. S. Office of Education proposed today that all young people be required to take literacy tests at about the age of 17, 18 or 19. Those who failed to pass would be required to attend school—or take a "specified amount of instruction"—for a year or two longer. Homer Kempfer, the agency specialist for general adult and post-high school education, writing in an office publication, "School Life," said the tests should be part of a state's compulsory attendance legislation.

Early Maneuvers Starting For '52 Presidential Race

(By The Associated Press)

Preliminary maneuvers in the 1952 battle for the presidency are shaping up all over at state levels.

At Austin, Texas, a liberal faction of Texas' usually-split Democratic party gathered at a political breakfast today to hear a speech by Secretary of Agriculture Brannan.

The group, called themselves "Volunteer Democrats," was reported deeply concerned over the renewed threat of a "States' Rights Democrat" uprising like that which nominated its own ticket in 1948.

At Oklahoma City yesterday, Gov. Johnston Murray said he would listen to the arguments of such southern States' Righters who are talking about a break with the present national administration.

But Murray declined to associate himself with the States'

Two past commanders of Kingston Post, 150, American Legion, Thomas Bohan of Ulster Park and Andrew J. Murphy, Jr., of Kingston, are in Miami, Fla., as delegates to the 33rd annual American Legion convention which will feature an address by General Douglas MacArthur.

The local delegates left several days ago for the convention which is scheduled to open Monday morning.

Bohan, in addition to being a former commander of the local post, is a past vice-commander of the New York Department, American Legion. Murphy, who will represent Ulster County Voiture at the 40 & 8 conclave in Miami, is a past grand chief of the New York Department.

Meanwhile, the Associated Press reported from Miami this morning that the capped Legionnaires from all parts of the nation rolled into the city in increasing numbers.

Pre-convention activities brought thousands to this city in advance of the formal opening Monday.

National Commander Erle Coker, Jr., said convention preparations were well ahead of schedule and "we are looking forward to a grand opening."

Reiterates Red Favoritism

At a subcommittee hearing yesterday Harold E. Stassen, former Republican governor of Minnesota, reiterated previous testimony that the "prevailing group" at an October, 1949, roundtable on China policy urged a 10-point program favorable to the Communists.

The State Department, in releasing the 90,000-word transcript of what was said at the closed sessions, said Stassen was "factually incorrect."

But Stassen, now the president of the University of Pennsylvania, maintained the record bore out "the truth of my description" of the conference. He accused the State Department of making "false and deceptive" statements about him.

Washington, Oct. 13 (AP)—The Senate Internal Security Subcommittee's probe for any subversive influences on U. S. policies in the Far East will swing back next week to Henry A. Wallace's 1944 mission to China.

Chairman McCarran (D-Nev.) told reporters today the subcommittee has scheduled an open hearing for next Wednesday to take testimony from the former vice president and from Joseph Alsop, a newspaper columnist.

Both Wallace and Alsop have asked to be heard in answer to the sworn charge of ex-Communist Louis Budenz that Wallace's cabled recommendations from China were in accord with the Communist line of the time.

Wallace, denying this, said the proposals he made to the late President Roosevelt were "the opposite of pro-Communist" and sprang from a desire to help Chiang Kai-shek, the Chinese Nationalist leader.

Alsop, who was on the staff of Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chennault at the time, wrote McCarran that he had a part in certain events in China "which prove that Budenz has lied to your committee."

McCarran said Alsop first will be questioned at a closed hearing Tuesday. The subcommittee met with Wallace behind closed doors earlier this week.

Mayorality Year

Total registration of voters in Kingston up to last night's closing time was 590 below the comparable three-day total in 1949, the last mayorality election year.

The running total—ahead of the 1949 figure after the first two days of registration last weekend—was set back sharply by yesterday's registration of 2,972 voters. On the third day of registration in 1949, a total of 3,835 voters registered.

In three registration days this year the total registration in Kingston's 20 districts was 8,863, compared to 9,453 registered the first three days in 1949. This year's three-day total, however, was still ahead of last year, when 8,542 persons registered during the first three days.

Holiday May Be Reason

Friday's poor showing was undoubtedly influenced by the fact that it was Columbus Day, a school and bank holiday. The clear weather—generally an indication that registration will be heavy—had an opposite effect this year, encouraging those who observed the holiday to take advantage of the long weekend.

Today is the fourth and final day for city voters to register in order to vote in the Nov. 6 election. Polls opened at 7 a. m. and will remain open until 10 p. m.

The three-day totals during the past five years: 1947—8,392; 1948—9,555; 1949—9,453; 1950—8,542; 1951—8,863.

Two other districts gained three registrants each over the 1949 totals. They were the Tenth Ward and the second district of the Twelfth Ward.

Biggest drop in registration for the three days was reported by the two districts of the Seventh Ward, which were 96 under the three day total in 1949. Other major drops reported: Sixth Ward, second district, 70; Second Ward, first district, 65; Eighth, 67, and Fourth Ward, second district, 61.

The first district of the Sixth Ward tallied 47 under the 1949 total, making the total loss for both districts of the ward 117.

Would Have Churches
Air Political Parleys

Pleasant Valley, Oct. 13 (AP)—Presbyterian women from three counties urged yesterday that the television broadcasts of the 1956 Republican and Democratic conventions be sponsored by religious organizations.

A resolution was adopted at a meeting of the North River Presbyterian Society, attended by women delegates from 24 Presbyterian Churches in Ulster, Dutchess and Orange counties.

The resolution said the 1956 convention telecasts should be sponsored by inter-faith and inter-church groups, and that money should be raised to pay for the TV sponsorship.

A spokesman said the resolution was occasioned by reports that brewing interests were seeking sponsorship rights for the 1952 conventions, but the spokesman had no details.

United Nations, N. Y., Oct. 13 (AP)—New Iranian opposition to any Security Council intervention in the British-Iranian oil dispute clouded U. S. efforts today to find a solution to the problem.

The council has scheduled a meeting for Monday to consider a double-edged British resolution.

The U. S. has announced its support of the British draft, and has been urging it on others.

But the Iranian spokesman, Deputy Premier Hossein Fatemi, told reporters last night that the Security Council has no business in the dispute. He has rejected anything other than direct negotiations with the British for compensation on the Anglo-Iranian oil properties, and then only on the basis of the new oil nationalization laws in Iran.

Fatemi also rejected a proposal by the International Cooperative Petroleum Association for a "neutral" board to administer the Iran oil properties.

He left one avenue open. Stresses Middleman

He said if any government or individual would serve as middleman, Iran would consider resumption of talks with Britain.

But he insisted repeatedly that the Security Council must take the stand that it has no jurisdiction.

The British resolution not only calls on the Security Council to ratify an International Court recommendation in the dispute, but to make resumption of talks a council project. The court decision recommended that Iran hold

News of Television Rocket Shrouded in Mystery by GE

New York, Oct. 13 (AP)—General Electric has shrouded in mystery news of a rocket that may be used someday for instant television from any place in the world.

Robert P. Haviland, a General Electric engineer, was to have spoken on the rocket during a space travel symposium yesterday at the Hayden Planetarium.

Inquiry later showed that his television rocket paper had been passed by the Pentagon in Washington as no violation of security, even though a similar rocket is being studied for military use.

A General Electric Public Relations official said GE had acted on its own for "internal reasons." The firm explained that its radio and television engineers objected to Haviland's report as too speculative at a time when ordinary Munsan, Korea, Oct. 13 (AP)—Liaison officers will meet again Sunday in dusty little Panmunjom in another effort to get the stalled Korean armistice talks rolling again.

The meeting is scheduled for 10 a. m. (8 p. m. Saturday EST). Negotiations were interrupted Saturday by a Red complaint that three United Nations warplanes strafe the fringe of the Kaesong neutrality zone Friday, killing a 12-year-old boy and wounding his two-year-old brother.

UN liaison officers investigated.

The Reds and UN allies were nearing agreement on administrative differences holding up resumption of full-dress armistice talks when the Communists protested by telephone Friday night that three allied planes had strafed the edge of the cease-fire neutral zone.

The Reds broke off the talks in Kaesong Aug. 23, charging that allied planes had bombed the zone the day before in an attempt to murder the Red armistice delegation.

A 15-year-old Korean boy told UN investigators Saturday that bullets from strafing allied warplanes struck his two younger brothers while they were fishing on Friday.

AP Correspondent Robert B. Tuckman, who accompanied the UN liaison officers in their investigation of the Red complaint, said "correspondents at Panmunjom generally felt the Communists had presented enough tangible evidence to back up their case—although there still were enough unknown factors to make a clear-cut opinion impossible."

Evidence Is Studied

A UN spokesman said the evidence was being studied and evaluated. The allied findings, probably will be announced by Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's headquarters in Tokyo.

Allied officers said the Reds had not lodged a formal protest but had asked for an official investigation.

The Red China radio at Peiping Saturday night quoted a Communist correspondent as saying "the Americans now are faced with another serious threat as to whether they will deal with the latest incident in a responsible manner or continue to wreck the (truce) talks by denying it."

The broadcast was monitored in Tokyo.

Go Ahead With Plans

The Communists meanwhile went ahead with their preparations for the resumption of negotiations. They put up three more tents at Panmunjom, presumably to be used by the Red delegates and their staff.

They are about 200 yards north of the large conference tent set up earlier this week. It has been used by liaison officers in their discussions.

The UN command has erected one tent and will bring in more when needed.

The investigation Saturday was dramatized by the appearance of the dead boy's father. The bearded elderly farmer hurled bitter remarks at allied officers and interpreters.

UN officers said he had been coached. They said in the preliminary investigation Friday night he addressed his grief and bitterness largely to the Reds.

television relay is not fully solved.

Haviland is famous as the project engineer on the rocket which was shot to the record altitude of 250 miles at White Sands, New Mexico, in 1949.

What he had to say yesterday was not entirely new. Other scientists had published papers on the subject.

The television rocket would be a space platform, a sort of satellite like the moon. It will serve as a fixed station 22,300 miles above the earth.

Interplanetary engineers say it can be kept in an unchanging orbit because of velocity. It will be brought to a position above the equator and will circle the earth in 24 hours in the same direction as the globe's revolution.

Washington, Oct. 13 (AP)—The present Congress has broken the peacetime record for the amount of money appropriated and still has four big appropriations to handle before it adjourns.

Two bills passed by the Senate and sent to the White House yesterday raised to $71,136,000,000 total funds approved thus far to run the government in the current fiscal year.

The previous high mark outside of a war year was $61,000,000,000 in fiscal 1951 which ended last June 30. The all-time record was set in fiscal 1943 in the midst of World War 2. Appropriations that year totaled $147,000,000,000.

The remaining four bills would add about $14,000,000,000 to the total already approved in the nine measures sent to President Truman.

Although this would take appropriations for fiscal 1952 up to the $85,000,000,000 mark, the Treasury estimates that actual spending for the year will run between $68,000,000,000 and $73,000,000,000. This is because many military items such as airplanes on which work is started in this fiscal year will not be completed and not paid for until much later.

One of the bills sent to the White House yesterday—the $56,937,808,030 military money measure—was the largest peacetime appropriations bill ever passed by Congress. And there have been hints the Pentagon will be back soon after Congress meets in January with a request for a supplemental appropriation for the armed services.

The other measure approved yesterday was $12,867,887 bill carrying over $2,000,000,000 in Commerce and Justice Department and the Judiciary.

The Republicans made a fight on this one but it passed by almost a straight party line vote, 31 to 27.

Senators Ferguson (R-Mich.) and others objected because the conferees on this bill had knocked out a Senate section making a 25 per cent cut in public relations personnel for the three departments.

Ferguson said the cut was in all the other appropriations bills and that there was no reason it should not apply to all departments.

Kimball Arrives

Paris, Oct. 13 (AP)—U. S. Navy Secretary Dan A. Kimball arrived today from Rome to discuss naval problems.

Baptism in the Midst of Wreckage

First Lieut. Kenneth L. Oden, of Chicago, is baptized by Chaplain Arthur E. K. Brenner, of Bennington, Vt., in the muddy waters of Chaiwon river in Korea. A battered bridge in background and abandoned Russian-made T-34 tank, partially submerged and covered with debris, are result of fierce fighting that hit this area previously. ## UN, Reds Meet Sunday In Effort to Renew Panmunjom Peace Talk

Happy Interlude

Premier Mohammed Mossadegh of Iran enjoys a laugh as he talks with newsmen during a conference at New York Hospital, New York, Oct. 12. Nurse Ruth Meacham stands behind his wheel chair. The Iranian leader is in the U. S. to defend his country's oil nationalization program before the United Nations. He has been in ill health for some time and is residing at the hospital rather than at a hotel.

New Iran Intervention Clouds Efforts to Settle Oil Dispute

Biggest Drop 117
In 6th Ward; 7th
Is Off 96 Voters

Only two election districts in Kingston reported an appreciable gain in registration for the three days this year over the comparable three days in 1949. They were the Second Ward, second district, with a gain of 68, and the Twelfth Ward, first district, with a gain of 24.

Two other districts gained three registrants each over the 1949 totals. They were the Tenth Ward and the second district of the Twelfth Ward.

Biggest drop in registration for the three days was reported by the two districts of the Seventh Ward, which were 96 under the three day total in 1949. Other major drops reported: Sixth Ward, second district, 70; Second Ward, first district, 65; Eighth, 67, and Fourth Ward, second district, 61.

The first district of the Sixth Ward tallied 47 under the 1949 total, making the total loss for both districts of the ward 117.

Would Have Churches Air Political Parleys

Pleasant Valley, Oct. 13 (AP)—Presbyterian women from three counties urged yesterday that the television broadcasts of the 1956 Republican and Democratic conventions be sponsored by religious organizations.

A resolution was adopted at a meeting of the North River Presbyterian Churches in Ulster, Dutchess and Orange counties. The resolution said the 1956 convention telecasts should be sponsored by inter-faith and inter-church groups, and that money should be raised to pay for the TV sponsorship.

A spokesman said the resolution was occasioned by reports that brewing interests were seeking sponsorship rights for the 1952 conventions, but the spokesman had no details.

Security Council Slates Meeting Monday to Consider British Resolution

United Nations, N. Y., Oct. 13 (AP)—New Iranian opposition to any Security Council intervention in the British-Iranian oil dispute clouded U. S. efforts today to find a solution to the problem.

The council has scheduled a meeting for Monday to consider a double-edged British resolution. The U. S. has announced its support of the British draft, and has been urging it on others.

But the Iranian spokesman, Deputy Premier Hossein Fatemi, told reporters last night that the Security Council has no business in the dispute. He has rejected anything other than direct negotiations with the British for compensation on the Anglo-Iranian oil properties, and then only on the basis of the new oil nationalization laws in Iran.

Fatemi also rejected a proposal by the International Cooperative Petroleum Association for a "neutral" board to administer the Iran oil properties.

Stresses Middleman

He said if any government or individual would serve as middleman, Iran would consider resumption of talks with Britain.

But he insisted repeatedly that the Security Council must take the stand that it has no jurisdiction.

The British resolution not only calls on the Security Council to ratify an International Court recommendation in the dispute, but to make resumption of talks a council project. The court decision recommended that Iran hold

News of Television Rocket Shrouded in Mystery by GE

New York, Oct. 13 (AP)—General Electric has shrouded in mystery news of a rocket that may be used someday for instant television from any place in the world.

Robert P. Haviland, a General Electric engineer, was to have spoken on the rocket during a space travel symposium yesterday at the Hayden Planetarium.

Inquiry later showed that his television rocket paper had been passed by the Pentagon in Washington as no violation of security, even though a similar rocket is being studied for military use.

A General Electric Public Relations official said GE had acted on its own for "internal reasons."

The firm explained that its radio and television engineers objected to Haviland's report as too speculative at a time when ordinary

Communists Say Korean Boy Killed by U. S. Plane Friday Near Kaesong

No Protest

Foes' Only Request Is Investigation of That Incident

Munsan, Korea, Oct. 13 (AP)—Liaison officers will meet again Sunday in dusty little Panmunjom in another effort to get the stalled Korean armistice talks rolling again.

The meeting is scheduled for 10 a. m. (8 p. m. Saturday EST). Negotiations were interrupted Saturday by a Red complaint that three United Nations warplanes strafed the fringe of the Kaesong neutrality zone Friday, killing a 12-year-old boy and wounding his two-year-old brother. UN liaison officers investigated.

The Reds and UN allies were nearing agreement on administrative differences holding up resumption of full-dress armistice talks when the Communists protested by telephone Friday night that three allied planes had strafed the edge of the cease-fire neutral zone.

The Reds broke off the talks in Kaesong Aug. 23, charging that allied planes had bombed the zone the day before in an attempt to murder the Red armistice delegation.

A 15-year-old Korean boy told UN investigators Saturday that bullets from strafing allied warplanes struck his two younger brothers while they were fishing on Friday.

AP Correspondent Robert B. Tuckman, who accompanied the UN liaison officers in their investigation of the Red complaint, said "correspondents at Panmunjom generally felt the Communists had presented enough tangible evidence to back up the case—although there still were enough unknown factors to make a clear-cut opinion impossible."

Evidence Is Studied

A UN spokesman said the evidence was being studied and evaluated. The allied findings, probably will be announced by Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's headquarters in Tokyo.

Allied officers said the Reds had not lodged a formal protest but had asked for an official investigation.

The Red China radio at Peiping Saturday night quoted a Communist correspondent as saying "the Americans now are faced with another serious threat as to whether they will deal with the latest incident in a responsible manner or continue to wreck the (truce) talks by denying it."

The broadcast was monitored in Tokyo.

Go Ahead With Plans

The Communists meanwhile went ahead with their preparations for the resumption of negotiations. They put up three more tents at Panmunjom, presumably to be used by the Red delegates and their staff.

They are about 200 yards north of the large conference tent set up earlier this week. It has been used by liaison officers in their discussions.

The UN command has erected one tent and will bring in more when needed.

The investigation Saturday was dramatized by the appearance of the dead boy's father. The bearded elderly farmer hurled bitter remarks at allied officers and interpreters.

UN officers said he had been coached. They said in the preliminary investigation Friday night he addressed his grief and bitterness largely to the Reds.

Miss Gertrude Vinton Reformed Church will be the speaker from the Dulce Missions and Mrs. Edwin Koeppe, who has recently returned from China, the speaker from the Board of Foreign Missions. Everyone is cordially welcome to all services in this church. The church is open daily for prayer and meditation.

China Missionary Will Speak During Local Convention

REV. WALTER OLDFIELD

The Rev. Walter Oldfield, missionary to China, will be one of two missionaries who will be the featured speakers at the annual missionary convention scheduled for the Alliance Gospel Church, corner of Franklin and Pine streets, starting October 18 and continuing nightly through Sunday, Oct. 21.

Also scheduled to speak are the Rev. A. B. Case, missionary to French-Indo-China and Dr. Peter Wiseman of the Missionary Training of Nyack.

The annual convention is the highlight of the entire year's program of the church. The local Alliance Church is a part of the world-wide Missionary organization known as the Christian and Missionary Alliance now supporting more than 600 missionaries on 20 foreign mission fields.

The Rev. Mr. Oldfield of Toronto, Canada, first went to China in 1904. Launching upon pioneer work, he did extensive work among the great Chang Tribe.

His tour of missionary duty included some of the following experiences: "I was in China during the Revolution when the Manchus Dynasty was overthrown and the Republic of China was established; acted as a peacemaker between rival factions, was decorated for bravery and presented with a gold medal, kidnapped and robbed by bandits several times, one of the first white men to explore among the mountain people of Interior Kwangsi."

He also was engaged in Red Cross work for the Chinese Government with dressing posts near the fighting fronts. Due to his outstanding work, he was named a member of the Royal Geographical Society of England. He served as chairman of the church's South China mission fields for many years.

He is the guest speaker. Wednesday, 3:45 p. m., junior choir rehearsal under the direction of Mrs. Dykstra. Thursday, 7:30 p. m., sanctuary choir rehearsal under the direction of Mrs. Kenneth L. Hickok. Saturday, Young Homemakers food sale at the Montgomery Ward store on North Front street.

Fair Street Reformed Church, Fair and Pearl streets, the Rev. Mr. J. Dean Dykstra, minister—Church school at 10 a. m., with departments for all age groups, under the direction of Mrs. Dykstra. A nursery is provided for the care of young children in the kindergarten during the hour of adult worship. Worship service at 11 a. m. WKNY will broadcast this worship service. The pastor will preside at the 10:30 conventions of Angels. There will be an area young peoples conference today. There will be two conference sessions this afternoon. A committee of mothers is preparing a spaghetti supper for all which will be served at 7 p. m. by a inspirational service in the sanctuary. The Rev. Wilbur Brandt will speak on the subject "The Challenge of Queerness." Visitors are invited to attend the 7 p. m. service. The young people are requested to meet the pastor at 8 p. m. to complete conference details. Monday, 7 p. m., the Boy Scout Troop will meet in the parish room. Wednesday at 2:15 p. m., release time religious instructions will be conducted. Wednesday, at 3:15 p. m., the pastor will speak and at 1:15 p. m., intermediate choir rehearsal. Both are held in the parish room and are under the direction of Mrs. W. Earle Ryalence. Wednesday, 8 p. m., Couples Club will hold its regular meeting at 7 p. m. in the parish room. Thursday, 3:45, Girl Scout will meet in the parish room. Thursday, 7:30 p. m., senior choir rehearsal is held in the parish room under the direction of Mrs. Madeleine Wood. Friday, 2:30 p. m., the Missionary Society will meet at the home of Mrs. Ralph Glendening, Hurley. Transportation will be furnished for any who have no way of transportation if they will come to the parish room in the church at 2 p. m. Mrs. Arthur H. Miss Gertrude Vinton Reformed Church will be the speaker from the Dulce Missions and Mrs. Edwin Koeppe, who has recently returned from China, the speaker from the Board of Foreign Missions. Everyone is cordially welcome to all services in this church. The church is open daily for prayer and meditation.

First Baptist Church, Albany avenue at Broadway, the Rev. Donald E. Brown, pastor—At 10 a. m., church school with classes for all ages; 11 a. m., church school with sermon by the minister. At 4 p. m., Beams of Light radio program over WKNY; 6:15 p. m., Youth prayer meeting; 6:45 p. m.,

Your Life and Mine by CLYDE HERBERT SNELL

Beauty on Our Hills
Look out of almost any window today and you see a panorama of beauty that almost takes one's breath away. Long years ago a wise man who had a heart that was sensitive to beauty exhorted his fellow mortals to "Look to the Hills!" We hardly need the exhortation on this autumn day, for who is there without sight of hills who can resist turning his eyes toward them? Mother nature has decked them out in their most exquisite garb for the season's farewell party. We all feel the appropriateness of those lines from the pen of Edna St. Vincent Millay: "O world, I cannot hold thee close enough! Thy winds, thy wide gray skies! Thy mists, that roll and rise! Thy woods, this autumn day, that ache and sag And all but cry with color."

Track that beauty down on this autumn day and you will, of course, discover that it shines forth from the tent of thousands of separate leaves. It is a total panorama only in the sense that the eye—that miracle camera—transforms it into a breath-taking whole. But when you draw near you can see that the beauty is painted upon the surface of innumerable leaves. And it is a fragile beauty; one that flutters in the slightest breeze. It hangs by frail stems that Jack Frost will soon sever from the trees.

Have you ever noticed as you have glanced at the hills that it is not necessarily the biggest tree that sports the most gorgeous colors? Very often it is some humble bush "down under" that draws the eye by its splash of fiery red or soft amber. Some tiny briar bush or some sumac, huddling unnoticed beneath some towering oak for most of the season, may suddenly become the pride of all the hills as summer turns off into autumn.

Soon our hills will be bleak again—bare trees will be silhouetted against a cold gray winter sky. We had better enjoy the beauty while it is here, for before we know it the last leaf will have fluttered to the ground and the chilly and barren page of the season's cycle will be upon us.

And perchance nature's transient beauty is held before our eyes in order to teach us the worth of the deeper beauty that endures. As Hugh O. Isbell has said: "I think God touched the autumn woods With tints of yellow gold To teach us what a man may be When he is growing old."

When gray hairs come upon him, Like frost across the land, A man may face eternity "With beauty in his hand."

Two-County Group May Have Churches Give Broadcasts

A group of Ulster and Dutchess county women want church groups, instead of brewers, to sponsor TV broadcasts of the 1956 presidential nominating conventions.

The North River Presbyterian, in session Thursday at Pleasant Valley in Dutchess county, adopted a resolution recommending to the Inter-Church Council that steps be taken to secure the cooperation of all religious faiths in the county to arrange for sponsoring television broadcasts of 1956 nominating conventions for both parties.

The resolution was passed after it was called to the attention of those present that a brewers' association is considering sponsoring telecasts of the 1952 conventions. The Presbyterian is a women's organization of the Presbyterian Church. President of the North River Presbyterian is Mrs. Clarence Rathgeb of Highland.

The Thursday morning speaker at the all-day sessions are Mrs. Frank Densberger of Kenmore, state head of public affairs work for Presbyterian women. She outlined the work of the United Nations four-point plan for refugees and aid to war-torn countries, urging members of all churches to become familiar with this program. She stressed the benefits of agricultural and technical instruction programs which enable people of war-torn nations to help themselves.

Mrs. H. Howard Black of Wappingers Falls of the Board of Foreign Missions, during the afternoon session described a trip through Spain, Portugal, Yugoslavia and Germany which she took this spring as one of a group on a special mission.

Next meeting of the Presbyterian will be in Marlborough in April, 1952.

Baptists to Hear Missionary Head Sunday Morning

The Rev. S. S. Feldmann, DD., director of missionary cooperation for the Baptist Missionary Convention of the State of New York, will be the guest preacher at the 11 a. m. worship service Sunday at the First Baptist Church, Albany avenue at Broadway, it was announced today by Mrs. Donald E. Brown.

The Rev. Donald E. Brown, pastor of the local church, recently underwent an operation at the Kingston Hospital. During his illness, several clergymen have been filling the pulpit every Sunday morning.

Subject sermon for the Rev. Dr. Feldmann will be "Seeing as Jesus Sees." A special program of music has been arranged for the service.

Formerly the director of promotion for the Baptist Missionary Convention in this state, the Rev. Mr. Feldmann served as secretary of stewardship of the Iowa Baptist Convention since June, 1947.

Upon graduation from the Colgate-Rochester Divinity School in 1924, the Rev. and Mrs. Feldmann were sent to the Philippine Islands as missionaries of the American Baptist Foreign Mission Society. In 1930, he was appointed mission secretary and served in that capacity until their return to the United States in 1941.

After his return to this country, he became the pastor of the First Baptist Church, Grand Forks, N. D., and later accepted a call to the pastorate of the First Baptist Church, Middletown, O., where he remained until the fall of 1945. From 1945 to 1947 he served as director of the World Mission Crusade in Iowa. Sioux Falls College conferred upon him the honorary degree of doctor of divinity in 1948.

Space in Attic Has Many Uses

More and more home owners are learning that there is valuable space in the attic which can be reclaimed from cobwebs and old trunks and converted into bedrooms, study rooms, or play space. In planning this reclamation, the home owner should examine all details of the project as many problems are likely to arise before the job is completed.

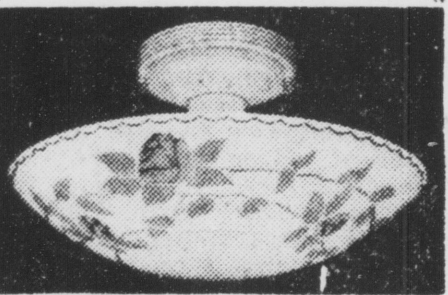

One feature of this modernization which must be handled properly to achieve a neat appearance is that of finishing the chimney. Plaster authorities say that if plaster is applied directly to the chimney the shape of the bricks will soon show through. Also, they add, the bond between the bricks and the plaster is usually so poor that the plaster will crack and perhaps much of it will fall off.

Ways to Finish Birch

Birch is a close-grained wood that does not require a paste filler. It can best be given a mahogany or walnut color with a penetrating stain. While it is often given a natural finish with a gloss or dull varnish, a lacquer or a wax, it is an excellent base for enamel and may also be bleached.

Colors Work Together

Each color in a room affects every other color that is there. When you place red next to a wall or an object that is painted with its complement, green, it will give greater beauty to the green. Orange, next to blue, will make the blue seem brighter.

Ventilation Ends Cellar Dampness

Dampness in the basement and unpleasant odors resulting from dampness usually can be eliminated through proper ventilation.

Basement windows often must be placed partially or almost entirely below the ground level and outside airways used to obtain the desired natural light and ventilation.

Areaways Often Too Small

Areaways for basement windows are often made too small. To provide effective light and ventilation, the width of the area should be at least equal to its depth. Its length should not be less than the width of the masonry opening of the window. The bottom of the area should be about six inches below the top of the masonry sill of the window. The use of deep areas from which leaves and snow cannot be readily removed should be avoided.

Brick, poured concrete, concrete blocks, and corrugated galvanized iron sheets may be used for areaway walls. When built of masonry area walls should be eight inches thick. When concrete is used, the walls may be six inches thick. The walls should rest on firm ground, and to prevent damage due to frost action the bottom of the walls should be carried below the first level experienced in the locality.

Drainage Is Important

Efficient drainage of the areaway is important. Good drainage may be obtained by covering the area bottom with a layer of cinders, broken stone or gravel, or with brick laid in sand and with open joints.

When the soil is porous no other special provision for drainage will be needed. If the soil is of a type that does not permit rapid drainage, it is advisable to provide for positive drainage of the areaway by use of a pipe installed to carry water away from the building.

Check This List When Purchasing That Little Home

If the bride and groom decide to solve their "where to live" problem by buying a house here is a check list that will be useful in making their purchase:

Is it in a neighborhood where you want to live for many years?

Is the price one that will not be too heavy a burden to pay?

Is it of good construction? It is wise to have an expert to answer this question for you?

Is it an architectural style which is not faddy and in bad taste?

Is it a house that can expand when your family grows?

Is it convenient to transportation to the husband's work, shops, school, etc.?

Are the heating system, water supply, and lighting adequate?

Is the garbage disposal system provided?

Stopping Boiler Leaks

Small leaks in boilers can be fixed by pouring in a boiler patching compound. This works on about the same principle as the liquids used to stop leaks in car radiators.

THE CROWLEY

Ideal for a Young, Growing Family

Rooms ..... Eight
Bedrooms ..... Five
Closets ..... Nine
Cubage: House ..... 24,500 ft.
Garage ..... 7,700 ft.

Dimensions ..... 33' x 26'

Wide clapboards and stones combine to make a distinctive exterior finish completely in harmony with the architecture of "The Crowley." Either a plain wood or masonry finish could be used with attractive results if you do not care for a combination exterior. Blinds, the round window in the bathroom, the three windowed bay in the living room and the wide chimney all provide additional decorative appeal for the house exterior.

Measuring 33' x 26', "The Crowley" is built along simple, uncluttered lines and demands simple landscaping. Cubage of the main house is 24,500 feet. Overall dimensions are 33' x 52'. The garage wing has a cubage of 7,700 feet.

The front door opens on a small hall that contains both a coat closet in which to hang guests' wraps and a regular closet in which you can store your family's rain gear, or any other items which could most conveniently be kept in this section of your home.

You'll find the lavatory, placed to the right off the hallway, most convenient both for your guests and for your family. If you do not want to finish the second floor until some future date when you have need of the extra room, the lavatory can double as a bathroom.

Handsome Living Room

To the right, also opening off the entry hall, is the spacious and handsome living room. The three windowed bay in the front wall and the large fireplace in the right wall are the decorative highlights of the room. Both features also have practical values for the windows provide lots of extra light, sunshine and ventilation for the room; the fireplace will prove well worth the space it occupies on many a chilly day or evening.

Bookshelves, built-in at either side of the fireplace, further enhance the decorative charms of this section of the room. They'll also help you to keep the room uncluttered by providing a regular, and convenient storage spot for your books. Against the unbroken section of back wall would make an excellent location for your television set.

The den or guest bedroom is located to the left off the living room. Measuring 13' by 11'6", the room is assured of good light and cross ventilation through the three windows in the back wall. You can easily and conveniently use this as a regular bedroom if you do not want to finish the second floor at the time the house is built.

China Closets

Opening off the living room, the dining room is a pleasant well-lighted room with ample space for attractive arrangement of your dining room furniture. The built-in china closet in the left back corner of the room is an ideal storage and display spot for your fine china and glassware. Built in drawers at the bottom of the cabinet as a storage spot for your table linen. And, be sure to take advantage of the light and view provided by the three windows in the right wall when arranging your dining table and chairs.

Conveniently near to the dining room, the kitchen is planned as a work center; yet contains enough room for a comfortable breakfast nook in the back right corner of the room. In dimensions, the kitchen is 12'6" x 13'6". Working counters, sink and refrigerator line the left wall of the room. The sink is placed in the center of the array, under the large window looking out on the back yard.

Concealed in the back wall of the living room is the doorway that closes off the stairs to the second floor, which contains four bedrooms plus a bathroom. Each of the bedrooms has cross ventilation and plenty of precious closet space. The left front bedroom is 15' x 12'6" and is designed to serve as the master bedroom. The right front bedroom measures 12'6" x 11'.

Modern Bath

An all modern bath, complete with tub and shower, separates the two bedrooms in the right wing of the second floor. Measurements of the right back bedroom are 13'6" x 9' while those of the left back bedroom are 13'6" x 12'6". A large linen closet is conveniently placed between the two back bedrooms and opens on the connecting hallway.

Blueprints Available

Complete plans and specifications for this house and all other "Home of the Week" designs are available at moderate cost. For plan prices, write to the Home Building Editor, Dept. 24, Kingston Daily Freeman, and enclose a self-addressed, 3c stamped envelope. Allow 7 to 10 days for a reply.

Airplanes often are used to transport fish from lakes to market in western Ontario.

Lighting System Requires Check

Careful check should be made of the light and power equipment in a new home or in modernizing an existing home.

In the case of old dwellings, such a check is doubly recommended. The original installations may have become worn or damaged. The services of a competent electrician should be employed to avoid mistakes which might prove costly and hazardous.

A wiring system, if permitted to remain neglected, may prove to be a dangerous fire hazard. Non-metallic sheathed cable, armored cable, rigid metal pipe, or knob and tube may be used in rewiring. A variety of types of switches may be employed. Standard toggle switches may be used for ordinary locations.

Filling Nail Holes

Unsightly nail holes in woodwork can be eliminated by filling them with plastic wood, sold in all hardware and paint stores. When covered with paint or varnish they no longer are apparent.

When Drawer Sticks

To budge a sticking drawer, soap or paraffin rubbed along the top and bottom sliding edges is a good first-aid measure, but in a serious case, the edges may have to be sanded down.

Window Garden Planting Guide

When bulbs are potted for indoor window gardens, failure to bloom usually may be attributed to two conditions — the length of time given for the root growth and the final forcing in too much light and heat. The time required for making roots depends upon the character of the bulbs, so keep this table as a guide:

Paper-white narcissus, 4 weeks; Roman hyacinths, 8 weeks; Dutch hyacinths, 10 weeks; tulips, 10 weeks; daffodils, jonquils, 10 weeks; crocus, 8 weeks; small hyacinths, 8 weeks; snowdrops, 6 weeks; scillas, 6 weeks.

Plant hyacinths and daffodils so that the nose just protrudes when the pot is filled with soil to within half an inch of the top, and cover other kinds entirely with the tops barely below the surface. When the roots are well grown take the pots from storage and start forcing in a temperature of about 50 degrees without any direct sunlight. Increase heat and light gradually, but do not take into a warm room until the flowers are fully expanded.

If using water alone, place the bulbs in a container so that the water just touches the base of the bulbs, adding more as it evaporates. If clear-glass is used for the dish, shut out the light from the roots by paper, cloth, or paint. Should the flower stem not keep pace with the leaves, put a cone paper over the plant, which will give it a chance to catch up.

Make Cleaning Easier

Corner shields pushed into corners of stairs and floors make cleaning easier.

Home Garage

In today's home, the garage has assumed much greater importance than in former years when folks did not have so many cars, and few homes are now built that do not have some sort of a garage in connection with the house and designed in harmony with the architectural design.

When Dirt Is Stubborn

A good way to remove stubborn dirt patches from hardwood floors is to wipe them lightly with very fine steel wool moistened with turpentine.

The walls should rest on firm ground, and to prevent damage due to frost action the bottom of the walls should be carried below the frost level experienced in the locality.

Drainage Is Important

Efficient drainage of the areaway is important. Good drainage may be obtained by covering the area bottom with a layer of cinders, broken stone or gravel, or with brick laid in sand and with open joints.

When the soil is porous no other special provision for drainage will be needed. If the soil is of a type that does not permit rapid drainage, it is advisable to provide for positive drainage of the areaway by use of a pipe installed to carry water away from the building.

Check This List When Purchasing That Little Home

If the bride and groom decide to solve their "where to live" problem by buying a house here is a check list that will be useful in making their purchase:

Is it in a neighborhood where you want to live for many years?

Is the price one that will not be too heavy a burden to pay?

Is it of good construction? It is wise to have an expert to answer this question for you?

Is it an architectural style which is not faddy and in bad taste?

Is it a house that can expand when your family grows?

Is it convenient to transportation to the husband's work, shops, school, etc.?

Are the heating system, water supply, and lighting adequate?

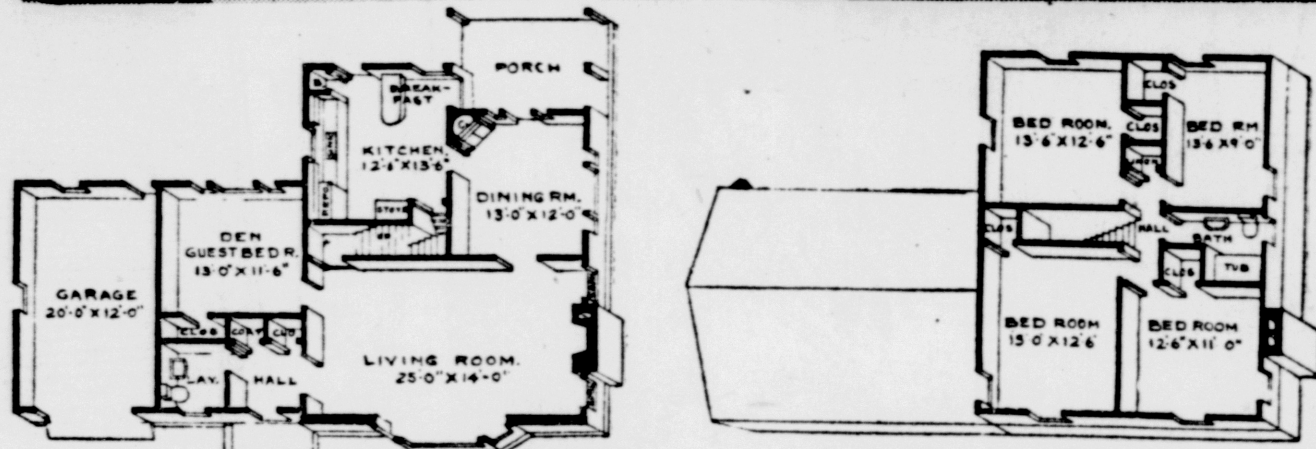

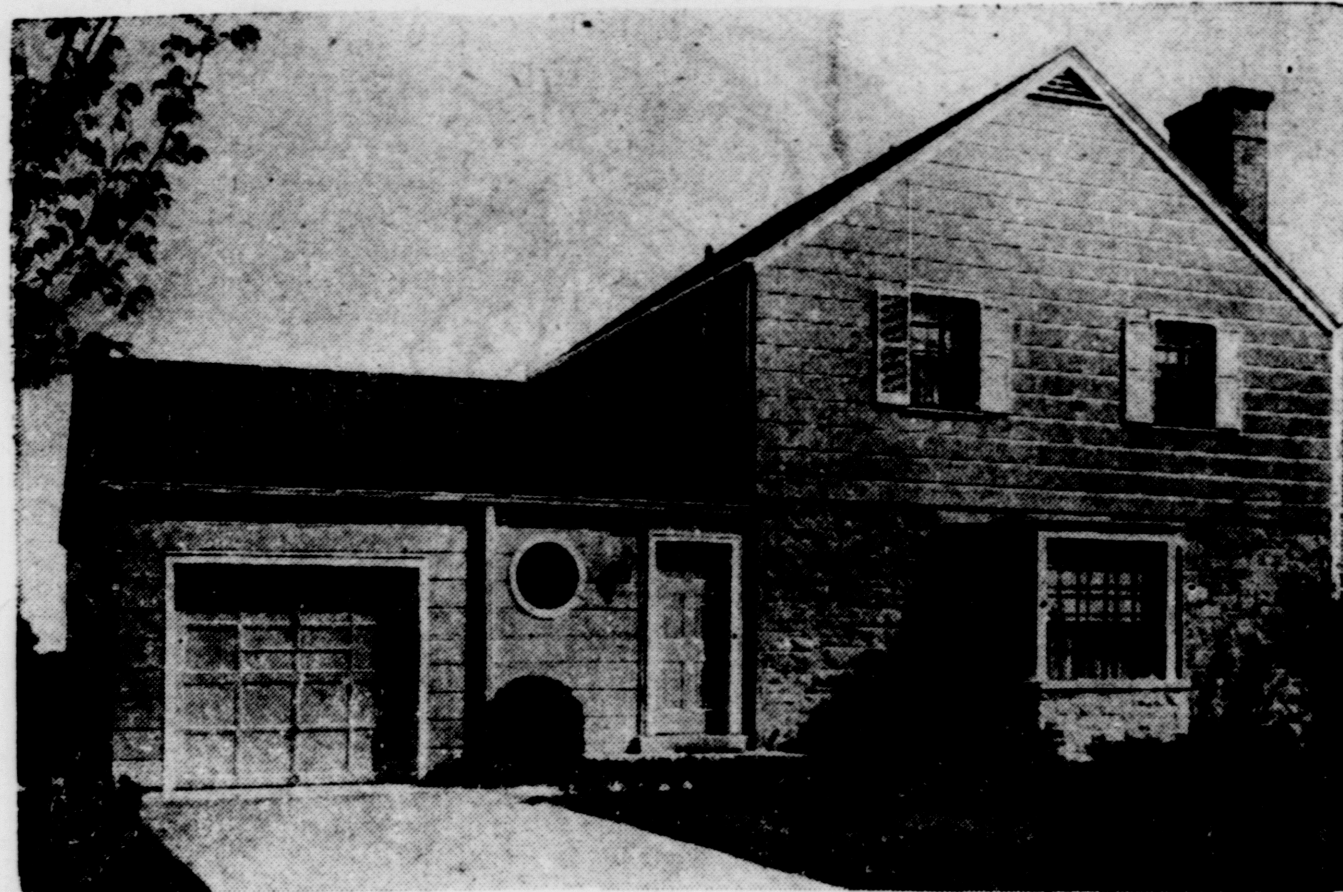

Is the garbage disposal system provided?

Stopping Boiler Leaks
Small leaks in boilers can be fixed by pouring in a boiler patching compound. This works on about the same principle as the liquids used to stop leaks in car radiators.

THE CROWLEY

Ideal for a Young, Growing Family

Rooms ..... Eight
Bedrooms ..... Five
Closets ..... Nine
Cubage: House ..... 24,500 ft.
Garage ..... 7,700 ft.

Dimensions ..... 33' x 26'
Wide clapboards and stones combine to make a distinctive exterior finish completely in harmony with the architecture of "The Crowley." Either a plain wood or masonry finish could be used with attractive results if you do not care for a combination exterior. Blinds, the round window in the bathroom, the three windowed bay in the living room and the wide chimney all provide additional decorative appeal for the house exterior.

Measuring 33' x 26', "The Crowley" is built along simple, uncluttered lines and demands simple landscaping. Cubage of the main house is 24,500 feet. Overall dimensions are 33' x 52'. The garage wing has a cubage of 7,700 feet.

The front door opens on a small hall that contains both a coat closet in which to hang guests' wraps and a regular closet in which you can store your family's rain gear, or any other items which could most conveniently be kept in this section of your home.

You'll find the lavatory, placed to the right of the hallway, most convenient both for your guests and for your family. If you do not want to finish the second floor until some future date when you have need of the extra room, the lavatory can double as a bathroom.

Handsome Living Room
To the right, also opening off the entry hall, is the spacious and handsome living room. The three windowed bay in the front wall and the large fireplace in the right wall are the decorative highspots of the room. Both features also have practical values for the windows provide lots of extra light, sunshine and ventilation for the room; the fireplace will prove well worth the space it occupies on many a chilly day or evening.

Bookshelves, built-in at either side of the fireplace, further enhance the decorative charms of this section of the room. They'll also help you to keep the room uncluttered by providing a regular, and convenient storage spot for your books. Against the unbroken section of back wall would make an excellent location for your television set.

The den or guest bedroom is located to the left of the living room. Measuring 13' by 11'6", the room is assured of good light and cross ventilation through the three windows in the back wall. You can easily and conveniently use this as a regular bedroom if you do not want to finish the second floor at the time the house is built.

China Closets
Opening off the living room, the dining room is a pleasant well-lighted room with ample space for attractive arrangement of your dining room furniture. The built-in china closet in the left back corner of the room is an ideal storage and display spot for your fine china and glassware. Built in drawers at the bottom of the cabinet as a storage spot for your table linen. And, be sure to take advantage of the light and view provided by the three windows in the right wall when arranging your dining table and chairs.

Conveniently near to the dining room, the kitchen is planned as a work center; yet contains enough room for a comfortable breakfast nook in the back right corner of the room. In dimensions, the kitchen is 12'6" x 13'6".

Working counters, sink and refrigerator line the left wall of the room. The sink is placed in the center of the array, under the large window looking out on the back yard.

Concealed in the back wall of the living room is the doorway that closes off the stairs to the second floor, which contains four bedrooms plus a bathroom.

Each of the bedrooms has cross ventilation and plenty of precious closet space. The left front bedroom is 13' x 12'6" and is designed to serve as the master bedroom. The right front bedroom measures 12'6" x 11'.

Modern Bath

An all modern bath, complete with tub and shower, separates the two bedrooms in the right wing of the second floor. Measurements of the right back bedroom are 13'6" x 9' while those of the left back bedroom are 13'6" x 12'6". A large linen closet is conveniently placed between the two back bedrooms and opens on the connecting hallway.

Blueprints Available
Complete plans and specifications for this house and all other "Home of the Week" designs are available at moderate cost. For plan prices, write to the Home Building Editor, Dept. 24, Kingston Daily Freeman, and enclose a self-addressed, 3c stamped envelope. Allow 7 to 10 days for a reply.

Window Garden Planting Guide

When bulbs are potted for indoor window gardens, failure to bloom usually may be attributed to two conditions — the length of time given for the root growth and the final forcing in too much light and heat. The time required for making roots depends upon the character of the bulbs, so keep this table as a guide:

Paper-white narcissus, 4 weeks; Roman hyacinths, 8 weeks; Dutch hyacinths, 10 weeks; tulips, 10 weeks; daffodils, jonquils, 10 weeks; crocus, 8 weeks; small hyacinths, 8 weeks; snowdrops, 6 weeks; scillas, 6 weeks.

Plant hyacinths and daffodils so that the nose just protrudes when the pot is filled with soil to within half an inch of the top, and cover other kinds entirely with the tops barely below the surface. When the roots are well grown take the pots from storage and start forcing in a temperature of about 50 degrees without any direct sunlight. Increase heat and light gradually, but do not take into a warm room until the flowers are fully expanded.

If using water alone, place the bulbs in a container so that the water just touches the base of the bulbs, adding more as it evaporates. If clear-glass is used for the dish, shut out the light from the roots by paper, cloth, or paint. Should the flower stem not keep pace with the leaves, put a cone paper over the plant, which will give it a chance to catch up.

Make Cleaning Easier

Corner shields pushed into corners of stairs and floors make cleaning easier.

Home Garage

In today's home, the garage has assumed much greater importance than in former years when folks did not have so many cars, and few homes are now built that do not have some sort of a garage in connection with the house and designed in harmony with the architectural design.

When Dirt Is Stubborn

A good way to remove stubborn dirt patches from hardwood floors is to wipe them lightly with very fine steel wool moistened with turpentine.

DUAL PURPOSE FACTORIES

A permanent system of factories planned for both civilian and defense production is proposed by C. E. Wilson, president of General Motors Corporation. Many of our industrial plants have been designed so that they can be readily converted from one to the other, but the idea of permanently allotting a certain amount of facilities to defense production is new to most lines of industry.

Conversion to military production of plants primarily intended to make civilian goods is both costly and slow. We discovered in World War II and again in the Korean War that it takes a long time to stop making household goods and begin making weapons. If a portion of each appropriate factory were planned for regular military production, it might be easier to keep up with developments in weapons, and the weapons might be obtained quicker and at less cost. In the long run there might also be less disruption of civilian production, which for the most part could go on side by side with military production, even in periods of concentrated defense effort such as the present.

We have begun to accept the prospect of living in a situation of world tension for many years. We have begun to reconcile ourselves to a permanent system of putting young men into uniform. It seems to follow logically that we should plan on a long-term basis to be prepared to make the weapons and machinery of defense, and to do it as easily and smoothly as possible.

PUBLIC ASSISTANCE

The public assistance caseload in New York State has risen by nearly 90,000 in the postwar period, according to the Citizens Public Expenditure Survey. The increase from 165,585 in June 1945 to 255,338 cases in June 1951 represents a rise of 54.2 per cent in six years.

The June 1951 caseload in Ulster County was 1,571 an increase of 163 cases or 11.6 per cent from the June 1945 caseload of 1,408.

There were 173 cases for every 10,000 persons in the state receiving one of the five forms of public assistance in June 1951. The total here for home relief was 65; old age assistance, 1,154; aid to dependent children, 169; aid to blind, 24; aid to disabled, 159.

HUNTERS ARE WARNED

Ulster is one of the counties in which hunters should be most on guard against rabies, according to the State Health Department.

Hunters in Ulster County are urged to be on guard against rabid foxes, which have been known to attack both hunting dogs and men. The mere fact that a fox approaches hunting parties, rather than fleeing, is a warning that it might be rabid.

Of course "lead poisoning" is the leading danger with the major hazard being reckless marksmanship.

ART OF UNDERSTANDING

A person who observes a group of people talking in a foreign tongue which he does not know often begins to wonder whether the ones who are speaking, it understand it themselves. They seem to chatter unintelligibly, and once in a while some incident will be observed which indicates obvious misunderstanding. The watcher then nods sagely and goes off thinking about the superiority of his own clear and simple language.

But English is neither clear nor simple. It can be as readily misunderstood by people who speak it every day as any other language. A quick look through the dictionary will turn up any number of common words with fifteen or twenty different meanings. The word "take," for instance, in Webster's Unabridged has twenty-six listed meanings as a transitive verb, ten others as an intransitive verb and six as a noun, in addition to about three columns of idiomatic uses.

The language is sometimes misunderstood, and small wonder. When words tempt

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

IRAN — EGYPT — CHINA

The rejection of the British by Iran and Egypt is not unrelated to the position the British have adopted toward China. A political and economic empire can only maintain itself by proud might when an empire even gives an appearance of fear and cowardice, the peripheral areas will rebel; allies will look to their own interests; subject nations will bare their teeth.

The British empire was created by force and trade penetration. It consisted not only of colonies, seized, occupied and governed, but of contractual relationships with physically weak and economically backward countries. In Iran, the British once enjoyed a sphere of influence as did Russia. That had been reduced to an economic contract concerning the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company, which has now been altered by nationalization.

Great Britain's relationship to Egypt is complex. The most ancient country, Egypt had, from 1517 to 1882, been within the Turkish empire. In the latter year, because of internal disturbances, the British sent troops there to protect the Suez Canal, which had been opened in 1869, but it was not until 1914 that a British protectorate was declared, to last until February 28, 1922.

As the Suez Canal has been so important to the existence of the British empire, it has been British policy to maintain a general overlordship over Egypt. The condominium agreements of 1899 gave the British management of the canal. Since 1936, the Egyptians have been demanding a revision of these agreements.

The Sudan is a large area in Africa which was gradually coming under Egyptian rule until 1883 when the Mahdi revolted. His movement was eventually suppressed by the British, who thenceforth governed the Sudan.

Since 1936, the Egyptians have been seeking to drive the British out, actually starting negotiations to that end in 1945. Had British policy been firm in China and Iran, the Egyptians would not have dared to assume their present attitude. As British policy in China has been one of constant retreat, and as Iran has so far suffered no really disastrous effects from a unilateral cancellation of the Anglo-Iranian oil concessions, Egypt is encouraged to risk Britain's anger. Unfortunately, the United States is included in that anger.

In the United Nations, Egypt has insisted that the troops of one nation have no right to be on the territory of another nation except by invitation. As British troops guard the Suez Canal and are in the Sudan by treaty, Egypt, to maintain her attitude, now seeks to abrogate the treaty.

Both Great Britain and the United States have had ample warning of dissatisfaction and trouble in Egypt and the Sudan. Unfortunately, the American policy is geared to support Great Britain in all countries where British interests had prevailed prior to World War II. This policy, however, brings us in conflict with countries which seek to free themselves from contractual relations with Great Britain. The Egyptian foreign minister, Salah El Din Pasha, made Egypt's position clear last July when he said:

"... the most important point in any Anglo-Egyptian talks is that Egypt will not stand on their side at any time so long as they insist on occupying our territory and on separating the Sudan from Egypt."

Egypt has been placing restrictions upon the movements of shipping and goods in the Suez Canal, an issue now before the Security Council of the United Nations. Egypt's participation in Arab wars against Israel raises the question of her right as a belligerent in the control of the Suez Canal, which is her territory.

The crux of the problem is that Egypt stands on her sovereign rights as an independent state. Great Britain cannot enforce her will on any country; the United Nations cannot enforce its decisions. Therefore, such countries as Soviet China, Iran and Egypt violate treaties, contracts and international law without fear of reprisal.

The burden of maintaining the power and authority of both Great Britain and the United Nations therefore falls upon the United States, which has never been an imperialist country and has never recognized the right of one people to control the affairs of another. From the Declaration of Independence to the Atlantic Charter, this country has insisted that every people has a right to a government of its own choice. If foreign troops are stationed in a country, except by the invitation of that country, do the people have free choice? And can the United States afford to be Britain's muscleman?

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

SURGICAL TREATMENT OF EPILEPSY

As a boy I saw a patient suffering from an attack of epilepsy, and I decided that if I graduated in medicine, some day I'd try to find the cause and cure of epilepsy! Shortly after graduating, I thought I had found the cause and cure as I was able to keep a patient free of epileptic attacks for two years by washing out his stomach twice a week. He was moved to another city and attacks returned. He was bitten by a domestic cat that had turned wild and the attacks did not return for three years—then the attacks returned. Then the discovery was made that cutting down on liquids and using the drug phenobarbital instead of the bromides could prevent the attacks of epilepsy or keep them under control. This patient has now been kept free of attacks for several years.

Until recently, cutting down on liquids and starches and increasing fat foods has been the routine treatment for epilepsy, or seizures resembling epilepsy. In the Journal of Pediatrics, Dr. A. E. Walker states that most cases of epilepsy can be successfully treated by phenobarbital and other anticonvulsive drugs. These drugs will prevent attacks in 50 per cent of cases and greatly decrease seizures in another 25 per cent.

What about the 25 per cent in which these drugs are not effective?

In cases which resist the action of anticonvulsive drugs, Dr. Walker states that surgical treatment may be considered. Surgery is the removal of some focal or local condition present in the brain, which type of epilepsy is diagnosed or discovered by electroencephalograms (X-rays of the brain) and observation of the movements of the brain. "The character of the seizures is so important for the diagnosis that at times it is advisable to bring on an attack by injecting pentylene-tetrazole into a vein, which attacks have all the characteristics of a spontaneous or natural attack of epilepsy."

In discussing Dr. Walker's article, an editorial in the Journal of the American Medical Association states that the usual focal or cortical type of epilepsy is discovered by an examination by X-ray and electroencephalograph; it is usually an old scar on the brain or some "expanding" disturbance such as a brain abscess, cyst or other growths. All these conditions have a common feature, that is the presence of groups of cells (ganglion) in which the circulation has been interfered with to such an extent that the life of the cells is threatened. Operation consists in opening the abscess, cutting of an adhesion, opening of a cyst or removal of a tumor and thus the complete removal of all brain tissue in which the circulation has been disturbed.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — Senator Taft let his hair down the other evening at an off-the-record dinner for Republican newcomers to Congress. Under a barrage of questions, he talked like a presidential candidate but couldn't be coaxed into admitting he was one.

"Senator," blurted Illinois Congressman Tim Sheehan, "when we go to a football game on Saturday afternoon and we see the players running up and down the sidelines, we assume they are about ready to get in the game. You have been running up and down all over the country. Are you or are you not a candidate?"

"Not at the moment," grinned Taft. "Would you be interested in a Taft-MacArthur ticket?" fired Congressman Albert Morano of Connecticut.

"No, I wouldn't, but MacArthur might be interested in a MacArthur-Taft ticket," shot back Mr. Republican.

However, the hottest party question was brought up by California's Congressman Pat Hillings, who asked: "In view of the present investigation of the national chairman of both political parties, do you think Guy Gabrielson (the GOP chairman) should resign?"

"He should be given a full opportunity to present his side of the case. Perhaps it will be proved that he didn't do anything illegal," Taft began cautiously, then added bluntly: "But, nevertheless, he will eventually have to go."

Republicans Can't Loaf
The Ohio senator puffed into the private dining room at Washington's Hotel 2400 an hour late, looking tired, after a long Senate session. He was taken in hand by Ohio's Congressman Bill Ayres, the host, who herded the GOP freshmen into a line to have their pictures taken individually with Taft. Somehow, a waitress also wandered into the line and had her picture taken with the senator.

The congressmen then devoured $340 worth of fruit, roast beef, baked potato, string beans and strawberry sundae before Taft was called upon. He spoke for 20 minutes from notes on the back of an envelope, reviewing his Ohio election campaign.

"No body should make charges he cannot prove behind the cloak of congressional immunity," Taft said. "At the same time Senator McCarthy has done some good in alerting the country to the subversive influences in government."

For an hour, Taft swung at these questions, chiefly on campaign issues, how to win votes and the need for party organization.

For example, Congressman Charles Brownson of Indiana wanted to know whether the Taft-Hartley Law "will be an issue in next year's campaign and do you think the law needs some amendments?"

Taft retorted that, if it becomes an issue, it "will be one for us." He claimed the Republican party can show that it helped the workingman by passing the law. This was the issue, he reminded, behind his fight for re-election in Ohio.

"The smear campaign put on against me by the (CIO) Political Action Committee only made votes for me," he declared.

Taft added that he favored amending the Taft-Hartley law, including a provision to end the union-shop-election procedure.

At 10 p. m., Ayres cut off the questions and adjourned the off-the-record meeting. The rental time had expired on the banquet hall. A grinning, hand-shaking Taft departed, looking less tired than when he had arrived.

Baseball Monopoly
Football isn't the only sport to get a going-over by the Justice Department's anti-trust division. Others on the griddle for restricting radio and television will be boxing and baseball. This may curtail the television of fights in selected theatres.

Justice Department attorneys have been eyeing the baseball broadcast situation for some time, and once were on the verge of an agreement with the ball clubs. Both the big leagues had indicated they would give all radio and TV networks an even break, but the Justice Department, unsatisfied, now has the case on Assistant Attorney General Morrison's desk.

ELLENVILLE NEWS

Ellenville, Oct. 13 — Thomas Miller of Irvington, N. J., has been hired by the board of education as a second boys' gym teacher. This action is in accordance with the new policy of the board that only physical education majors will be employed to coach all interschool athletics and results from the recent difficulties encountered when Coach A. W. Roberts, gym teacher, and Norman Schwartz, English teacher, requested additional salary for coaching athletic teams.

The board refused to pay for extra-curricular activities and announced that they would prefer to employ another teacher for coaching. There are now four who will be in charge of athletics — Mr. Miller, Alfred W. Roberts, Miss S. Evelyn Hawley and Frank Rowland. Mr. Miller majored in physical education at Brockport State Teachers' College and Seton Hall University, is a veteran of the U. S. Navy and has taught gym and coached at Memorial High School in West New York, N. J.

The American Red Cross is sponsoring a series of 10 lessons in home nursing, the first of which was held at the Methodist parsonage last Tuesday night. Mrs. Frank Colgan, RN, is the instructor for the course. Although this course is full, another will be started later and anyone wishing to join should get in touch with Mrs. Colgan, phone 253-J.

Bird E. Smith, chief boilerman, USN, son of Mrs. Grover Smith of 3 Church street, is serving aboard the destroyer tender, Tidewater. He took part in recommissioning ceremonies of the ship at Charleston Navy Yard last week. He is now visiting his mother.

Norman Tennenbaum has purchased the dwelling at 14 Park street, formerly owned by Dr. Fred A. Buchman.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fox of Cooperstown spent the past weekend as guests of Miss Rachel Taylor at Cragmoor. Mrs. Fox, who is well known as a puppeteer, staged a puppet show for the children of the community.

Good Taste Today

by Emily Post
(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

DESSERT INVITATION

A letter today says: "It seems to be customary here to invite friends for dessert in the evening, some time after seven o'clock. This means serving only one course, with coffee. The economic situation has of course been responsible for this part-meal hospitality. One problem it has created which doesn't seem properly solved is what to call such a party. 'Dessert supper' doesn't make much sense to me! What would be your suggestion?"

I do not think any name is necessary. In your place I would ask over the telephone: "Will you come to us for dessert and coffee on Wednesday at half-past seven o'clock?"

Again 'Mrs. Mary'

Dear Mrs. Post: With my recent divorce the court granted me the right to use my maiden name again. I'm told however that I have to call myself "Mrs." Did the court expect that I should call myself Mrs. Maidenname? Is that correct?

Answer: Once married it is impossible to call yourself "Miss" in private life. If you prefer you can be "Miss" in your business or professional life and follow this title with whatever last name you choose to select. But in private (social) life you are "Mrs." whatever your own name is.

Wedding Always Formal

Dear Mrs. Post: Would eight o'clock in the evening necessarily mean a formal wedding? It would suit best to have the wedding at an evening hour but I don't wish to give the impression, particularly to people who don't live here that it is a formal wedding.

Answer: The ceremony is, of course, formal, and, in many localities, those at the reception at that hour would wear evening clothes.

Bride's Gift to Attendants
Dear Mrs. Post: What is the proper moment for the bride to give her attendants their gifts? Also, please tell what these should be?

Answer: There is no rule as to where or when but usually the gift before the wedding—perhaps at the bridesmaid dinner. The gifts are always something personal.

Why not give yourself an etiquette test?

Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. However, she has prepared a leaflet, E-18, which includes questions and answers helpful to everyone. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. (Released by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

C. D. of A. Conduct 7th Annual Day Of Recollection

The Rev. M. Andrew Lawrence of the Missionary Servants of the Most Holy Trinity conducted a Day of Recollection for Court Santa Maria, No. 164, Catholic Daughters of America at the convent of St. Ursula Sunday, October 7.

Sixty-five members and friends of the Court were present for the exercise which opened with Mass and communion. During the day a series of six conferences were given on the sacraments, prayer and kindred subjects.

Father Lawrence closed the Day of Recollection with holy hour, the renewal of baptismal vows and papal blessing.

Father Lawrence is a member of an American congregation of priests and brothers who labor in the rural parts of the United States. Founded by the Rev. Thomas Judge, a Boston priest, the young congregation has rapidly spread throughout 14 states, staffing 78 missions among Negroes, Indians and white sharecroppers. The Community has headquarters in Silver Springs, Maryland.

Approximately 400 Attend St. Mary's Group Card Party

Approximately 400 persons, it was reported today, attended the annual card party sponsored by St. Mary's Rosary Society on Wednesday, Oct. 3. St. Mary's hall was decorated for the affair with autumn flowers and foliage. At the group's monthly meeting October 8, a report was given on the party's social and financial success, by the Rev. J. A. Flaherty, moderator. It was, he said, the most successful ever held.

Mrs. F. Daniel Halloran, president, congratulated the chairmen, members and prefects for "their outstanding work" and thanked all those who had made the party a success. She particularly stressed the Altar Guild's faithful work.

Date of the memorial Mass for late members of the society will be announced in November. The Rosary Society will meet again November 5.

For MJM Parents

Parents and friends of the Myron J. Michael School are invited to attend an Education Association meeting Tuesday, Oct. 16, at 8 p. m., it was announced today.

The program Tuesday will feature the MJM School Band of approximately 60 pieces, under the direction of Marlin E. Morette. Those attending will be shown a new school movie, Many Ways to Learn, and the nominating committee will report on candidates for the association's executive committee.

Following the meeting an open house will be held, allowing parents to inspect the building, and meet with the teachers.

Celebrates 90th Birthday
William Briggs, a resident of the Home for the Aged in Cottekill, celebrated his 90th birthday today. Mr. Briggs, who enjoys perfect health, and smokes moderately, will be given a birthday party tonight by the home's Ladies' Auxiliary. An active octogenarian plus 10, he walks at least two miles a day despite the weather, and finds enough spare energy to clean, pack and candle all the eggs the home uses.

DESSERT INVITATION

A letter today says: "It seems to be customary here to invite friends for dessert in the evening, some time after seven o'clock. This means serving only one course, with coffee. The economic situation has of course been responsible for this part-meal hospitality. One problem it has created which doesn't seem properly solved is what to call such a party. 'Dessert supper' doesn't make much sense to me! What would be your suggestion?"

I do not think any name is necessary. In your place I would ask over the telephone: "Will you come to us for dessert and coffee on Wednesday at half-past seven o'clock?"

Again 'Mrs. Mary'

Dear Mrs. Post: With my recent divorce the court granted me the right to use my maiden name again. I'm told however that I have to call myself "Mrs." Did the court expect that I should call myself Mrs. Maidenname? Is that correct?

Answer: Once married it is impossible to call yourself "Miss" in private life. If you prefer you can be "Miss" in your business or professional life and follow this title with whatever last name you choose to select. But in private (social) life you are "Mrs." whatever your own name is.

Wedding Always Formal

Dear Mrs. Post: Would eight o'clock in the evening necessarily mean a formal wedding? It would suit best to have the wedding at an evening hour but I don't wish to give the impression, particularly to people who don't live here that it is a formal wedding.

Answer: The ceremony is, of course, formal, and, in many localities, those at the reception at that hour would wear evening clothes.

Bride's Gift to Attendants

Dear Mrs. Post: What is the proper moment for the bride to give her attendants their gifts? Also, please tell what these should be?

Answer: There is no rule as to where or when but usually the day before the wedding—perhaps at the bridesmaid dinner. The gifts are always something personal.

Why not give yourself an etiquette test?

Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. However, she has prepared a leaflet, E-18, which includes questions and answers helpful to everyone. ## HOME BUREAU

Kingston Day Unit

Kingston Day Unit, Home Bureau, held its regular monthly meeting Thursday at 2 p. m. in the Home Bureau rooms, with Mrs. E. Steuding, chairman, presiding. The nominating committee this session includes the Mmes. Clifford Donahue, William Leebie and Henri Gronemeyer. During the meeting two new members were welcomed to the unit, and Mrs. Robert Campbell, leader, reported on textile stenciling. Several members' finished work was also shown. Miss Grace Palisi showed members the stuffed animals she and Mrs. Thomas Turk had made. Lessons in their project will begin October 24. Mrs. William Lawless reported on fabric bag lessons, scheduled to start October 17, from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. in the bureau rooms. Those participating are asked to bring sewing equipment as sharp scissors, tape measure, pins, bastiing thread and needles; paper, pencil and ruler; one-half yard of lining material to go with bag material; one-half yard of outing flannel, and mercerized thread to match the bag and lining. Project leaders will be Mrs. Lawless and Mrs. Raymond Droulette. It was announced that the unit will hold a rummage sale shortly. Those furnishing donations should call Mrs. Stuart McGowan, chairman, at 265-R-2. Hostess at the tea which followed the meeting was Mrs. Lawless, assisted by the Mmes. Richard Bertie, Raymond Droulette, Ernest Heppner, Russell Freer, Jacob Myers, Martin Mehm, Michael Martin, Frank Mousher, Thomas Turk, Mrs. Francis A. Bongartz and Mrs. Joseph Maurer.

Lomontville Unit

Lomontville Unit, Home Bureau, met at the community hall Tuesday morning with the food leader, Mrs. Henry Rygh, to prepare and serve the following foods: Pinwheel casserole, Chinese cabbage salad, apple dessert with streusel topping. There was also a discussion period on the purchase of fruits and vegetables. The group will meet again at the community hall Thursday, Oct. 18, at 1:30 p. m.

Group Card Party

Approximately 400 persons, it was reported today, attended the annual card party sponsored by St. Mary's Rosary Society on Wednesday, Oct. 3. St. Mary's hall was decorated for the affair with autumn flowers and foliage. At the group's monthly meeting October 8, a report was given on the party's social and financial success, by the Rev. J. A. Flaherty, moderator. It was, he said, the most successful ever held.

Mrs. F. Daniel Halloran, president, congratulated the chairmen, members and prefects for their outstanding work, and thanked all those who had made the party a success. She particularly stressed the Altar Guild's faithful work.

Date of the memorial Mass for late members of the society will be announced in November. The Rosary Society will meet again November 5.

West doubled four spades in the hand shown today because he didn't like the sound of the bidding. The opponents had crawled up to their game contract with great uncertainty, so there was a fair chance that they were overboard, and practically no chance that either of them could afford a redouble.

If West had opened a heart South would have been set without any trouble. Not being clairvoyant, West opened the king of diamonds. He then continued with the queen of diamonds, and South ruffed.

At this point the contract was cold if South merely played it properly. But South was sure West had the king of trumps for his double, and he wanted to cut West of the annoying habit of doubling him.

South therefore finessed dummy's jack of trumps. The finesse succeeded, and South thereby lost his contract.

Declarer quite properly took dummy's ace of trumps next but then had the problem of getting back to his hand to draw the rest of the trumps. He couldn't afford to ruff another diamond, since that would reduce him to the same number of trumps as West, and West would be able to lead still another diamond when he got in with the king of trumps. South therefore had to get to his hand with the ace of hearts to knock out West's king of spades.

Now West led a heart, and East had two heart tricks to set the contract. Of course West was not cured of doubling by this fortunate result.

After ruffing the second diamond, South should have led a trump to dummy's ace, dislodging the finesse. He could then overtake dummy's jack of spades with his own queen, forcing out West's king. Nothing could prevent him from regaining the lead with the ace of hearts to draw the rest of the trumps.

West's trump as West and West would be able to lead still another diamond when he got in with the king of trumps. South therefore had to get to his hand with the ace of hearts to knock out West's king of spades.

Now West led a heart, and East had two heart tricks to set the contract. Of course West was not cured of doubling by this fortunate result.

7th Annual Day
Of Recollection

The Rev. M. Andrew Lawrence of the Missionary Servants of the Most Holy Trinity conducted a Day of Recollection for Court Santa Maria, No. 164, Catholic Daughters of America at the convent of St. Ursula Sunday, October 7.

Sixty-five members and friends of the Court were present for the exercise which opened with Mass and communion. During the day a series of six conferences were given on the sacraments, prayer and kindred subjects.

Father Lawrence closed the Day of Recollection with holy hour, the renewal of baptismal vows and papal blessing.

Father Lawrence is a member of an American congregation of priests and brothers who labor in the rural parts of the United States. Founded by the Rev. Thomas Judge, a Boston priest, the young congregation has rapidly spread throughout 14 states, a staff of 78 missions among Negroes, Indians and white sharecroppers. The Community has headquarters in Silver Springs, Maryland.

Here Are Signals to Your Partner

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"You have often referred to partnership understanding," writes a New Orleans Canasta fan, "but you haven't described the various signals that create this understanding. Can you do so?"

Glady, I can't cover them all in one article, but I'll describe a few and write about the rest another time. Here are the signals that apply before your side has completed its first canasta.

1. Adding two wild cards to a base of four natural cards. This play demands that your partner complete the canasta as soon as he can. If he has a natural card, he must put it down and if he has a wild card, he must use it. Your play indicates that you are able to meld out as soon as the canasta is completed, for otherwise you wouldn't dream of squandering two wild cards just to bring the meld up to the six-card level.

2. Adding one wild card to a base of five. This play is very similar to the play just described, but is not quite so strong. It is a strong request, but not an absolute demand, that your partner complete the canasta as soon as possible. The logic is that you have a good reason to add a wild card in this way, but you might do so on speculation whereas you would never use two wild cards except with a sure thing.

3. Adding one wild card to a base of four. This indicates that you are very anxious to make a canasta in a hurry. Hence you have a fine play for a fast out. Your partner should make a canasta if he can; should add a wild card or a natural card if he cannot complete the canasta. Of course, if he can do the trick with some other meld, he should do that instead.

4. Putting down a new meld when you have no base. This indicates that you want to help your partner win the discard pile (if you have a large number of cards in your hand) or that you want to get a base and a canasta as soon as possible (if you have only a normal number of cards in your hand).

When you are asking for a base, you indicate that you will be able to complete the canasta with wild cards if only your partner can supply a base. The signal is a demand if you use two natural cards and a wild card; but a strong request rather than a demand if you use three natural cards.

5. Melding more than necessary at your first meld. You have a very fine play for out and you want your partner to make a base as soon as possible.

Mr. Jacoby is unable to answer individual questions on Canasta from readers. However, he will include the most frequently asked questions in his column.

DiMag Believed Ready to Quit; Promises Yanks to Reconsider

Topping Puts Heavy Pressure on Clipper

New York, Oct. 13 (AP)—The question of whether Joe DiMaggio, whose spectacular career with the New York Yankees began 15 years ago, is going to retire, apparently was settled today—the Clipper has made up his mind to quit.

He declined to come right out and say he was finished, but he made it plain before heading for California by plane last night that he was delaying the inevitable only in deference to the wishes of Yank President Dan Topping, with whom he talked for two hours yesterday.

"I have made up my mind to retire and that is my present intention," said the great outfielder. "I have given it considerable thought."

When DiMaggio entered Topping's office for the confab, he was ready to lay his cards on the table. Topping listened to the slugger and instead of just saying, "OK, Joe, it's up to you," asked him to delay the decision for a time.

"You might feel differently a month from now," Topping told DiMaggio. "Why don't you go on your trip to Japan (where DiMaggio and teammate Billy Martin and Ed Lohr, along with Lefty O'Doul, will entertain the troops) and give this matter a little more thought."

DiMaggio agreed. This prompted Arthur Patterson, the Yanks' director of public relations to observe:

Matter in Air
 "As the situation stands now, things are pretty much up in the air."

What it all adds up to is that DiMaggio has retired but not officially. The chances are that he will make it stick, although he has changed his mind before.

That the Yanks and players themselves want DiMaggio back there is no doubt. He has been an inspiration to them throughout the years, and many are the rookies who merely have tried to look like him. As Manager Casey Stengel remarked after the Yanks won the World Series from the New York Giants:

"We couldn't have won without you, Joe!"

Has Good Reasons
 While he was in a slump in the beginning of the series, DiMaggio was downcast. He's a perfectionist and cannot tolerate himself performing his best. At one point, someone told him he was valuable even if he were doing nothing—just an inspiration.

DiMaggio growled that nobody was a help to a team when he couldn't carry his share of the burden.

There is no denying that the Yanks would be willing to give Joe the same $100,000 he received this year if he decides to come back.

But his reasons for apparently calling it quits are compelling. He knows he is not the player he was three years ago, and that he is on the downslide. With a lifetime batting average of .329, he hit only 263 the past season and slugged but 12 home runs.

For another thing, he has been bothered with physical ailments for some time and realizes he needs the rest from the long, 154-game grind. It is becoming increasingly hard to take. In the field now, he has to make mighty efforts for flies he would have caught with no trouble in past years.

Whatever it is, the final announcement will come from Joe shortly after he returns from the tour.

Arlington Wins Cross Country

Arlington High school's crack cross country squad trounced Kingston High, 21 to 34, as its runner, Frank Turner, outdistanced the field with a 13:11 performance for the 2½-mile event on Thursday at the Arlington course.

Palmaria gave Arlington a second place in 14:10, with the Maroon's first runner, Bob Baumer, finishing third in 14:13.

Other finishers in the first 20 in the order of finish were:

Keyser, A.; Thomas, K.; Fischer, A.; Miller, K.; Harrison, A.; Henderson, K.; Markle, K.; Brower, A.; Jacobowski, K.; Tiano, K.; McGreevy, K.; Moysen, A.; Peters, K.; Holland, K.; Swarthout, A.; Millet, A.; and Rieber, A.

Longden Loses Winner; Son Loses a Horse

San Bruno, Calif., Oct. 13 (AP)—Veteran Jockey Johnny Longden is minus a winner and his son, Vance, is out a $20,000 horse.

Longden was aboard Kit Carson, a stout handicapped horse and pace setter in yesterday's feature at Tanforan, when the animal stumbled and broke a foreleg. The horse was destroyed.

Vance, a soldier stationed at the Presidio in San Francisco, where he is a veterinarian's assistant, saw the accident.

The elder Longden bought the horse, for Vance from Arnold Hangar in New York last year. The five-year-old son of He Did had established three track records this year and was expected to be a favorite in the $40,000 Tanforan Handicap next Saturday.

City League Banquet, All-Star Games Keep Area Baseball Interest Alive

Although King Football is demanding its share of the sports headlines—delayed so long by the tumultuous National League finish and the subsequent World Series—baseball still refuses to die in this area.

Three baseball functions scheduled in the next few days are designed to keep fan interest alive at least a little while longer.

In order they are the City Baseball League banquet tonight at Tommie's Tavern on High street; the Bill Whalen day at Poughkeepsie Sunday afternoon and Fred Davis' promotion on Sunday, Oct. 21, at municipal stadium.

The City League's team and individual champions will be awarded trophies at tonight's affair which is expected to attract more than 100 persons. Principal speakers will be Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, Joe Kelly, league president, and Dick McCarthy, WKNY sports director.

McDermott Hurls
 Poughkeepsie baseball fans are expected to turn out in droves for the Bill Whalen Day Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Riverview Field for a game between the Poughkeepsie Elks and the New Jersey Silk Sox.

Three major league players—pitcher Maury McDermott of the Boston Red Sox; catcher Wes Westrum and pitcher Al Corwin of the New York Yankees—will appear in the game. A fourth member, Austin Knickerbocker of Dutchess county, was formerly with the Philadelphia Athletics.

Corwin, a sensational New York Giant rookie hurler who lives in Cornwall, N. Y., is expected to square off against McDermott, the Red Sox fireballer on the pitching slab.

Rizzuto-Berra Due
 Meanwhile, Kingston's own post-season extravaganza will take place on Oct. 21 when Phil Rizzuto and Yogi Berra of the world champion New York Yankees head a major-minor all-star array against Al Cuccinello's All Stars at municipal stadium.

The Cuccinello array is, in reality, the famous Bushmicks and virtually the complete Bushmicks roster will be on hand to compete against the lineup assembled by Berra and Rizzuto.

The appearance of Rizzuto and Berra is particularly timely in view of their great performance against the Giants. Rizzuto demonstrated that he is still at the peak of his game and an all-time shortstop. Berra finished the series hitting in good style after an early slump.

Fred Davis, the friend of major league fans, is expected to announce the complete lineup on Monday.

Joe Maurer's 622 Triple in Hercules League Best Series in Local Bowling

Joe Maurer, who has a penchant for high singles and triples, posted a 171-218-622 ball last night in the Hercules League for the top triple of the night.

Ed Gildenstern rapped 200-181-187-568 in the Electro; while Bill Lawrence had 201-203-174-578 in the Everyday; Larry Jordan 168-209-179-556 in the Y Mercantile and Warren Robinson 136-172-181-494 in the Jacobson Mixed.

Trailing Maurer in the Hercules circuit were Charlie Horne with 223-539; Orville Carney 222-525; Leo Bechtold and George Bilyou (208)-509; Vince Clearwater 504 and Jack Martin 501. Joe Dulin finished with 223 after a rocky start.

Bill Thiel was runnerup in the Y Mercantile with 211-541 and Charlie Boyce hit for 534. Also of note were Johnny Rowland's 205-523 and John Raible's 508. Carmel Massa led 487 and Charlie Port had 478.

H. Smith Rocks 567
 Harry Smith's 200-567 captured second place in the Electro, where R. Thompson whacked 223-561 and Tony La Rocca had 200-550. Burt Burr (210) and W. Short each finished with 535; R. Myers tossed 530; Steve Woyden 526; Ben Toffel 507 and H. Ellis-504.

Second best score in the Everybody's wheel was Jack Houghtaling's 562. Joe Sangi blasted 208-556; H. Budd 206-555; John Sangi 549; Jimmy Turk 545; J. Greco 538; A. Greco 557; Fred Schryer 532; Carl Lundquist 522; A. Spada 515; R. Lawrence 222-508 (and 106, too); and F. Frangello 504.

Joe Heidcamp rolled 486 in the Jacobson Mixer, with Lou Navarra showing 454 and Al Studt 447 in a night of desultory firing.

Thrilled by Welcome

Toronto, Oct. 13 (AP)—Sources close to the royal couple said today Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh could hardly believe the enthusiasm of Canadians who welcomed them anything like it.

Veteran reporters described the welcome for the heiress presumptive to the British throne as "fantastic" and a Canadian professor of psychology called it "mass hysteria."

Sailor Is Stabbed

Miami, Fla., Oct. 13 (AP)—A chief yeoman from the aircraft carrier USS Cabot was in critical condition in the Veterans Administration Hospital today after being stabbed eight times with an ice pick, Capt. Ray Brock of the Miami police reported. Brock identified the yeoman as Michael A. Loscalzo, 31, of Astoria, L. I.

Who can remember way back when the New York Giants last won a ball game?

Best line in the series: The inimitable Bugs Baer's quip that the Giants started like a house on fire, but the Yankees collected the insurance.

The National League should give up the World Series as a bad habit. The count is now 32 to 18 against them, with the New York Yankees 11 and 4.

The junior leaguers have captured 164 games while losing only 109. The Yankees are 63 and 30 against the National League in the autumnal baseball madness, including a clean sweep of six series. Does that make the American League a superior league or doesn't it?

A couple of big baseball shows are on tap for the Hudson Valley fans. Bill Whalen will be honored in Poughkeepsie Sunday, with such greats as Maury McDermott, Wes Westrum, Al Corwin and Austin Knickerbocker playing in a special game.

Consider the strange fate of Poughkeepsie. It boasts two outstanding major league sons in Maury McDermott, Jr., the Boston Red Sox southpaw and Wes Westrum, the Giant catcher. Yet its overall record in the matter of baseball support in the past few years is pathetic. But the same is true in Kingston, isn't it?

Scores Atomic Handling

Salt Lake City, Oct. 13 (AP)—David Lillenthal says the government's present methods of handling atomic development for industrial purposes are "monopolistic and not our way of doing things." Lillenthal, former chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, made that statement in an interview with the Desert News yesterday. With the proposed $6,000,000 annually pouring into development, he said, atomic energy will become a nationalized industry. That, he added, would result, in time, in nationalizing a large segment of American industry.

Favors Smaller Cars

Washington, Oct. 13 (AP)—Senator Fulbright (D-Ark.) says auto manufacturers might help in saving scarce materials by reducing the size of American cars. At hearing on defense materials yesterday before the Senate Banking Committee, Fulbright said he thought auto makers could get two cars out of the materials used now for one. He asked defense Production Administrator Manly Fleischmann why DPA doesn't ask "Ford and General Motors" to shrink their cars. Fleischmann said that was up to the makers, that DPA doesn't like to go beyond setting materials allocations.

NO DOUBT ABOUT IT, IT'S A DEAD HEAT

It took the automatic camera to help the judges decide the first race at Garden State Park, Camden, N. J., Oct. 12, and they took the camera's word for it that it was a dead heat between Green's Folly (No. 1) and Velark (No. 9). It was the first dead heat in the park during the current meeting. Green's Folly paid $8.20 with Velark paying its backers $13.20. Distortion by the camera lens caused the right front leg of Roundhouse (No. 6), which finished third, to appear as it does. ## Flotsam and Jetsam:

With another hunting season bearing down on us, it is pertinent to recall the old saw that whiskey and gunpowder don't mix. And no man can call himself a sportsman who fails to know and respect this fact. . . . Ad Jones, Harry L. Edson, Nick Kaslich and others of Colonial Baseball will be happy to learn that Zeke Bonura finally found himself a baseball home during 1951. Bonura was that quaint character who invited the old Colonial City Baseball enterprise to take him in as manager, part owner, to cut him in on the gate receipts and set up a long range pension plan. The New Orleans banana peddler drove a hard bargain that failed to arouse much enthusiasm in Kingston. However, the formula got results in Midland, Texas, where Bonura managed Midland of the Class C Longhorn League most of this season. As soon as he took over, the fans started coming out in droves. So, the club's board of directors named Zeke manager for next year. Bonura got a share of the club's stock and they're even talking about constructing a new park for 1952. Must be the Texas air.

An Amazing Athletic-Scholastic Record:

The athletic and scholastic record hung up by Harrison Culver, track star son of Thornton Culver, vice-principal at KHS, while at Union College was one of the most amazing in the Engineer's history. As a long distance runner, young Culver competed in four years of dual competition and racked up the brilliant record of 38 wins in 41 starts. He won 20 straight mile events; captured 17 out of 20 half mile starts and won his only start as a quarter miler.

He was captain of the cross country team in 1947 and in 1948 captured the undefeated cross country squad. At an invitation meet at Union in 1948 competing against 10 colleges, Harrison won the mile event and was second in the 880. A year later he tied for first in the mile. He was also anchor man on the relay squad and in 1949 set a track record at the University of Vermont meet.

While at Union, Culver competed in two cross country ICAA races; an indoor ICAA meet at Madison Square Garden and one national championship at Randall's Island.

Scholastically, he was as brilliant a student as ever matriculated at Union, completing the requirements for both civil and electrical engineering, the only student in Union history to have achieved this feat. He was on the dean's list many times and was recipient of Gottshall Scholarship upon entering Union and won the Veterans State Scholarship in 1948 and 1949. A member of the Kappa Alpha fraternity, he served as vice president and treasurer in 1950. Other activities included membership with the American Society of Civil Engineers and the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

This is an amazing record to be sure and it's nice to give the young man this deserved, if somewhat belated, recognition.

Ferraro to Craft Aerial Carries 25 Yards for Local Win at Staten Island

Port Richmond, Staten Island, Oct. 12—Favored Kingston High squared its seasonal record in bleak, wind-swept Weisglass Stadium tonight, by defeating Curtis High, 6 to 0, on a second period touchdown.

The victory was the second for Kingston, while the loss marked the second straight setback for the Curtis gridders.

Phoenicia Boy Is Held for Entering Gordon Pharmacy

A series of thefts from the Gordon Pharmacy in Phoenicia which have extended over a period of several months has been cleared up by Corporal Ray Dunn of the state police and Constable Marshall Yerry with the apprehension last night of a 15-year-old Phoenicia resident.

On several occasions a latch on an unused boiler room at the rear of the store was found open by Gordon. Suspecting that someone had entered the store during the day and unlatched the door, he reported the matter to Corporal Dunn.

On instructions from Dunn, Gordon left the catch off Friday night. Constable Yerry hid in the store after closing hours and about 11 o'clock the place was entered from the rear door. On a signal Corporal Dunn, waiting nearby, went to the assistance of Yerry and the youth was placed under arrest.

Corporal Dunn reported the lad had admitted opening the locked door and gaining entrance to the store on several occasions. He admitted taking money from the store. In all between $25 and $30 has been taken. Due to his age the name of the lad was not made public and he will be given a hearing in Children's Court.

Will Base Rules On Model Code

New Civil Service Plan Will Have Hearing November 20th

New rules of the Municipal Civil Service Commission, to be given public hearing Nov. 20, will be based upon the model rules of the New York State Civil Service Commission, the local commission announced today.

The present rules of the local commission were adopted on Oct. 8, 1941, and since that date numerous changes have been effected in the state law which have made certain portions of our local rules obsolete," the commission said.

The state will have a qualified representative to assist the commission at the hearing in the city hall at 8 p. m., Nov. 20. The mayor, corporation counsel and members of the council's laws and rules committee along with other city officials and interested persons are expected to attend.

Mink Hollow, well known as the source of Kingston's water supply and the Mink Hollow Ranch, has acquired its second guest ranch which is being developed by Michael Patrisso of Clifton, N. J.

Patrisso, who is engaged in servicing TV throughout northern New Jersey where he services 22,000 sets and employs 100 men, has acquired title to the Elias C. Hunter Homestead Farm from Sol Okun who has owned the property for some time. The farm is located at the head of Mink Hollow, comprises 196 acres, and is traversed for half a mile by the Mink Hollow stream. It is located partly in the township of Woodstock and partly in the township of Lexington, Greene county. It is now being developed as a guest

First Frost of Season Reported In County Area

The first frost of the season to be felt over a wide-spread area hit Ulster county this morning, with low temperature readings of 28 degrees reported in several sections.

Frost was reported from all low-lying areas in this vicinity used for truck and fruit farming.

In Kingston, however, an overnight low of 33 degrees was recorded on the engineering department thermometer at the city hall. The higher temperature there was attributed to the thermometer's elevation off the ground.

Some area farms experienced their first killing frost two weeks ago, although that frost was not as wide-spread as this morning's.

The Associated Press reported from Albany this morning that the Weather Bureau said the outlook is for another frost tonight, with temperatures rising into the 50's tomorrow.

Albany's 28.3 degrees broke the previous date record of 29 degrees set in 1875 and 1906.

The New York city area was somewhat warmer. The mercury there read 46 in early morning.

Senate Security

partment failed to answer the association's request to be included in the talks until the sessions were ended.

One major issue in the dispute over China policy, as well as in the pending nomination of Ambassador-at-Large Philip C. Jessup to be a U. S. delegate to the United Nations, is the State Department's past attitude toward the recognition of Red China.

Stassen said that early recognition of the Communist regime was part of the program advocated by the prevailing group at the three-day roundtable conference—a program he contended the State Department was carrying out until the Korean war started.

As he had in other recent testimony, he challenged Jessup's sworn testimony before the Foreign Relations Subcommittee that the United States never has considered or contemplated the recognition of Communist China.

The State Department said in a majority of the 23 non-government persons who participated in the roundtable were inclined toward eventual U. S. recognition of the Red Regime, but the department declared it had never pushed that policy.

It also denied there had been any prevailing group or 10-point program at the conference.

The Foreign Relations Subcommittee considering Jessup's nomination for the UN post is to meet again Monday, and Chairman Sparkman (D-Ala.) told reporters he would like to get a vote on the appointment then.

He said, however, that Stassen has been asked to be heard again, advising him he has important new evidence to present.

Approved Military

makers are convinced they can get out of town by next Saturday.

The four bills and their status: 1. Rivers and harbors and flood control projects. The House voted for $514,000,000, the Senate $638,000,000. The measure now is deadlocked in conference. It has caused bitter disputes between the two branches in the past.

2. First supplemental carrying $1,744,000,000 for defense purposes, economic stabilization agencies and other departments. In conference.

3. Second supplemental carrying $4,428,000,000 for military bases at home and abroad and for the Atomic Energy Commission. Has passed House. Senate Appropriations Committee meets on it today.

4. Foreign Aid Bill carrying $7,482,000,000 for economic and military help to friendly nations. Has passed House. Senate Appropriations Committee already has had some hearings on it.

The convention reaches a climax Tuesday with the mammoth eight-hour party, starting at 4 p. m. Gen. Douglas MacArthur addresses the assembly Wednesday noon.

Precautions Tightened

Ukiah, Calif., Oct. 13 (AP)—Jittery State Hospital officials today tightened security precautions in the wake of a riot that ended in a short-lived escape of four criminally-insane patients. "Now we'll have to put into effect even more stringent restrictions, curtail privileges of everyone and hope for the best," the hospital superintendent, Dr. G. Dean Tipcham, said. He blamed the outbreak on "too many patients and too few psychiatric technicians to look after them."

ranch known as "Trail's End." Patrisso formerly operated a similar enterprise at Lake George. Title passed at the office of Cashin and Ewig for an all cash consideration, Nathaniel B. Gross was the broker negotiating the transaction. The property was in the Hunter family from about 1800 until about 1880 when it was sold and has since changed hands several times.

2 County Schools Get High Rating By Press Group

New York, Oct. 12 (Special)—In a national contest, sponsored by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association here, the yearbooks published by students of two local schools captured high honors in their divisions today.

The Sawyer, the publication of students at Saugerties Public School, Saugerties, took second place honors among printed yearbooks of senior high schools with from 300 to 600 enrollment. The same rating was awarded to the Huzenot, of New Paltz High School, in the class for lithographed publications of senior high schools with under 300 students.

Entered in the competition were 948 yearbooks, representing public and private high schools, vocational schools and teachers colleges in communities, Hawaii, Alaska and Canada, the largest number ever entered.

Judging was based on such criteria as typography, content, makeup and art work. The winning publications have been placed on exhibition at Columbia University.

Fifth Employee Held In Big Bank Losses

New Kensington, Pa., Oct. 13 (AP)—The two national banks in New Kensington are short over a million dollars today as the FBI arrested a fifth employee on embezzling charges that have shocked this industrial community.

The FBI seized George Rogers Shirella, 53, yesterday. The slight, greying man worked his way up from messenger boy to assistant cashier of New Kensington's First National Bank. FBI Agent Fred Hallford said Shirella admitted misappropriation of $12,534.

Shirella is the fourth First National employee arrested since last Jan. 11 and the fifth in the town to be accused of embezzling federal bank funds. Hallford said Shirella also admitted making an $81,324 false entry on the bank's cash sheet.

The arrest brought the total to 10 the FBI has made in the western Pennsylvania-West Virginia area in little more than a year.

Keator and Bartholdi Win Theatre Prizes

Hervey Keator, manager of the 9W Drive-in Theatre at Kingston, was fourth prize winner in an individual theatre contest conducted by Walter Reade Theatres among its 40 roofed and drive-in theatres.

The contest, known as the Summer Sweepstakes showmanship contest, covers activities from Memorial Day to Labor Day. More than $4,000 in prizes were distributed at a meeting at the Hotel Astor in New York on Friday. The celebration also honored Walter Reade on the 50th anniversary of his entrance into show business.

Fred Bartholdi, city manager for all Kingston theatres, placed tenth in the contest.

which they rule jointly under an 1899 agreement.

Britain refused these conditions.

Two Treaties Denounced

Prime Minister Mustapha Nahas Pasha denounced both treaties this week and Parliament is speeding legislation to legalize the Egyptian denunciation.

(British Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison said last night Britain would maintain its rights under the Anglo-Egyptian treaty "until some new agreed arrangement comes along to be substituted for it.")

(The Middle East Defense Command proposed today apparently is the "new agreed arrangement" he had in mind.)

He said Britain will keep her troops along the Suez and won't attack Egyptians, but if the British are attacked "then our people will defend themselves and the government will support them in doing so.")

Speculate Next Bomb Test

Las Vegas, Nev., Oct. 13 (AP)—While the army tacked up "Don't Talk" signs in saloons and gambling halls, this town buzzed with excitement and speculation today over the forthcoming atom bomb tests in the Nevada badlands. Already the Civil Aeronautics Authority has issued warnings to pilots contemplating flights within a 200-mile radius of Las Vegas. In Carson City yesterday, top Atomic Energy Commission officials spent 90 minutes in conference with the governor of Nevada.

Grades of 70 or Better

Washington, Oct. 43 (AP)—Selective Service said yesterday 63 per cent of 339,000 college students who took examinations this year for military deferment got grades of 70 or better. This is one criteria for deferment. Another is the student's standing in his class—upper half of the freshman class, upper two-thirds of the sophomore class, or upper three-fourths of the junior class. Seniors are eligible for deferment if they are in the upper half of their class or score 75 or better in the Selective Service tests.

Red Cross Plans Christmas Project For U. S. Soldiers

Invites Other Groups, Individuals to Give Gifts for Troops on High Seas

A Christmas on the High Seas project is underway through the local Red Cross Chapter, Mrs. Samuel Adams, chairman, announced today.

Judging from the present trend of progress in the cease-fire talks in Korea and the continuation of battles of the United Nations troops against the Communists, there will be more U. S. troops headed for the Far East around the Christmas holiday season.

And as a result, the local Red Cross Chapter hopes to provide gifts which will be placed aboard troop ships at ports of embarkation on Christmas Day.

In announcing plans for the project, Mrs. Adams said "this is a program that will appeal not only to individuals but to clubs, service groups and other organizations in the community. Gifts contributed will be identified by cards bearing the names of the donors," she added.

Shipment must reach their destination by November 20. Mrs. Adams said, and individuals, clubs, service groups and other organizations interested in contributing packages, are requested to contact the Ulster County Chapter, American Red Cross, telephone 7020, and advise the number of packages to be contributed.

Ask Uniform Packages The local chairman also pointed out today that for the sake of uniformity, each package should have the same intrinsic value of approximately $2.50 and include no more than six of the following items, exclusive of greeting card: Greeting card, writing portfolio, pencils with clip, gum or life savers or hard candy in airtight cellophane bags, photofolder, crossword puzzle books, joke or cartoon books, small flat clothes brush, wallet, toothbrush, razor blades, pipe and pipe tobacco, stationary, cigarettes, soap, pocket-size books, deck of cards, small games such as dominoes, miniature chess or checkers, oilskin pouch, handkerchiefs, washcloth, camphor ice, nail, file and manicure scissors and comb.

Utmost care will be taken, Mrs. Adams said, to see that the packages are inspected and contain only items listed above. The chapter also will attractively wrap each package in Christmas wrapping.

Says Korean Army Almost Wiped Out

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Oct. 13 (AP)—A captured North Korean officer today told United Nations intelligence officers "the North Korean Army now is practically nonexistent."

His statement came as doughboys of the 23rd Infantry Regiment scorched out the last 35 Korean Reds holed up in bunkers on the slopes of the northernmost peak of Heartbreak Ridge.

A pooled dispatch from the front said the mopping up action was one of the bitterest of the Korean war.

All across Korea fighting exploded to an extent unequalled since the Reds' offensive last May was crushed.

The North Korean officer gave principal credit to allied artillery which pounded Red positions on Heartbreak Ridge unmercifully for weeks.

Another captured officer said his division of 4,000 men suffered 2,000 casualties in killed or wounded in the 30-day battle for Heartbreak and had been sent only 500 replacements.

up its oil nationalization program until there could be such talks. Because of Iran's protest at the implied stigma that the court decision threw on Iran in the dispute, there was a strong indication that at least four countries might side with the Iranian point of view and decide that the council had no right to sit in judgment.

Nations Taking Stand

India, Russia, Yugoslavia and China were rumored to be taking that stand. Some sources reported Ecuador was on the fence.

The U. S. has been trying to get across the idea that a general declaration by the Security Council that the talks should resume would be an effective instrument for reopening them.

But Fatemi was firm in saying he was not accepting that attitude. It was indicated that when Premier Mohammed Mossadeq makes his five or 10 minute speech in Iranian before the television cameras Monday he will say the same thing.

Early Maneuvers

Warren of California threw down what amounted to a challenge to conservative Republicans in his state.

At Sacramento, the three-term governor who calls himself a progressive Republican, said he welcomed a reported move by party leaders opposed to his policies to field their own delegation at the June presidential primary.

However, Warren made it plain that he invited rival tickets without implications as to his own plans. He was his party's 1948 candidate for vice president, and is generally expected to announce for presidency next year.

Give Blood for Korea

New York, Oct. 13 (AP)—A mass donation of blood by Roman Catholic nuns, priests and brothers in the New York archdiocese got started Friday. A Red Cross mobile unit was set up at St. Vincent's Hospital in downtown Manhattan, and during the first hour's operation, 72 nuns contributed blood. Most of them were teachers from parochial schools. Archbishop Francis Cardinal Spellman, who has called on nuns and clerics in the area to give blood to meet needs in Korea, has estimated that more than 10,000 ecclesiastics will respond.

Phoenicia Boy Is Held for Entering Gordon Pharmacy

A series of thefts from the Gordon Pharmacy in Phoenicia which have extended over a period of several months has been cleared up by Corporal Ray Dunn of the state police and Constable Marshall Yerry with the apprehension last night of a 15-year-old Phoenicia resident.

On several occasions a latch on an unused boiler room at the rear of the store was found off by Gordon. Suspecting that someone had entered the store during the day and unlatched the door, he reported the matter to Corporal Dunn.

On instructions from Dunn, Gordon left the catch off Friday night. Constable Yerry hid in the store after closing hours and about 11 o'clock the place was entered from the rear door. On a signal Corporal Dunn, waiting nearby, went to the assistance of Yerry and the youth was placed under arrest.

Corporal Dunn reported the lad had admitted opening the locked door and gaining entrance to the store on several occasions. He admitted taking money from the store. In all between $25 and $30 has been taken. Due to his age the name of the lad was not made public and he will be given a hearing in Children's Court.

Will Base Rules On Model Code

New Civil Service Plan Will Have Hearing November 20th

New rules of the Municipal Civil Service Commission, to be given public hearing Nov. 20, will be based upon the model rules of the New York State Civil Service Commission, the local commission announced today.

The present rules of the local commission were adopted on Oct. 8, 1941, and since that date numerous changes have been effected in the state law "which have made certain portions of our local rules obsolete," the commission said.

The state will have a qualified representative to assist the commission at the hearing in the city hall at 8 p. m., Nov. 20. The mayor, corporation counsel and members of the council's laws and rules committee along with other city officials and interested persons are expected to attend.

First Frost of Season Reported In County Area

The first frost of the season to be felt over a wide-spread area hit Ulster county this morning, with low temperature readings of 28 degrees reported in several sections.

Frost was reported from all low-lying areas in this vicinity used for truck and fruit farming.

In Kingston, however, an overnight low of 33 degrees was recorded on the engineering department thermometer at the city hall. The higher temperature there was attributed to the thermometer's elevation off the ground.

Some area farms experienced their first killing frost two weeks ago, although that frost was not as wide-spread as this morning's.

The Associated Press reported from Albany this morning that the Weather Bureau said the outlook is for another frost tonight, with temperatures rising into the 50's tomorrow.

Albany's 28.3 degrees broke the previous date record of 29 degrees set in 1875 and 1906.

The New York city area was somewhat warmer. The mercury there read 46 in early morning.

partment failed to answer the association's request to be included in the talks until the sessions were ended.

One major issue in the dispute over China policy, as well as in the pending nomination of Ambassador-at-Large Philip C. Jessup to be a U. S. delegate to the United Nations, is the State Department's refusal to acknowledge the recognition of Red China.

Stassen said that early recognition of the Communist regime was part of the program advocated by the prevailing group at the three-day roundtable conference—a program he contended the State Department was carrying out until the Korean war started.

As he had in other recent testimony, he challenged Jessup's sworn testimony before a Foreign Relations Subcommittee that the United States never has considered or contemplated the recognition of Communist China.

The State Department said in a majority of the 25 non-government persons who participated in the roundtable were inclined to ward eventual U. S. recognition of the Red Regime but the department declared it had never pushed that policy.

It also denied there had been any prevailing group or 10-point program at the conference.

The Foreign Relations Subcommittee considering Jessup's nomination for the UN post is to meet again Monday, and Chairman Sparkman (D-Ala.) told reporters he would like to get a vote on the appointment then.

He said, however, that Stassen has been asked to be heard again, advising him he has important new evidence to present.

2 County Schools Get High Rating By Press Group

New York, Oct. 12 (Special)—In a national contest, sponsored by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association here, the yearbooks published by students of two local schools captured high honors in their divisions today.

The Sawyer, the publication of students at Saugerties Public School, Saugerties, took second place honors among printed yearbooks of senior high schools from 300 to 600 enrollment. The same rating was awarded to The Huguenot, of New Paltz High School, in the class for lithographed publications of senior high schools with under 300 students.

Entered in the competition were 948 yearbooks, representing public and private high schools, vocational schools and teachers colleges in 44 states, Hawaii, Alaska and Canada, the largest number ever entered.

Judging was based on such criteria as typography, content, makeup and art work. The winning publications have been placed on exhibition at Columbia University.

Fifth Employee Held In Big Bank Losses

New Kensington, Pa., Oct. 13 (AP)—The two national banks in New Kensington are short over a million dollars today as the FBI arrested a fifth employee on embezzling charges that have shocked this industrial community.

The FBI seized George Rogers Shirella, 53, yesterday. The slight, greying man worked his way up from messenger boy to assistant cashier of New Kensington's First National Bank. FBI Agent Fred Halford said Shirella admitted misapplication of $12,594.

Shirella is the fourth First National employee arrested since Jan. 11 and the fifth in the town to be accused of embezzling federal bank funds. Halford said Shirella also admitted making an $81,324 false entry on the bank's cash sheet.

The arrest brought the total to 10 the FBI has made in the western Pennsylvania-West Virginia area in little more than a year.

Keator and Bartholdi Win Theatre Prizes

Hervey Keator, manager of the 9W Drive-In Theatre at Kingston, was fourth prize winner in an individual theatre contest conducted by Walter Reade Theatres among its 40 roofed and drive-in theatres.

The contest, known as the Summer Sweepstakes showmanship contest, covers activities from Memorial Day to Labor Day. More than $4,000 in prizes were distributed at a meeting at the Hotel Astor in New York on Friday. The celebration also honored Walter Reade on the 50th anniversary of his entrance into show business.

Fred Bartholdi, city manager for all Kingston theatres, placed tenth in the contest.

Egypt Is Invited

which they rule jointly under an 1899 agreement.

Britain refused these conditions.

Two Treaties Denounced Prime Minister Mustapha Nahas Pasha denounced both treaties this week and Parliament is speeding legislation to legalize the Egyptian pound.

(British Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison said last night Britain would maintain its rights under the Anglo-Egyptian treaty "until some new agreed arrangement comes along to be substituted for it.")

(The Middle East Defense Command proposed today apparently is the "new agreed arrangement" he had in mind.)

He said Britain will keep her troops along the Suez and won't attack Egyptians, but if the British are attacked "then our people will defend themselves and the government will support them in doing so.")

Speculate Next Bomb Test

Las Vegas, Nev., Oct. 13 (AP)—While the army tacked up "Don't Talk" signs in saloons and gambling halls, this town buzzed with excitement and speculation today over the forthcoming atom bomb tests in the Nevada badlands. Already the Civil Aeronautics Authority has issued warnings to pilots contemplating flights within a 200-mile radius of Las Vegas. In Carson City yesterday, top Atomic Energy Commission officials spent 90 minutes in conference with the governor of Nevada.

Grades of 70 or Better

Washington, Oct. 13 (AP)—Selective Service said yesterday 63 per cent of 339,000 college students who took examinations this year for military deferment got grades of 70 or better. This is one criteria for deferment. Another is the student's standing in his class.

Upper half of the freshman class, upper two-thirds of the sophomore class or upper three-fourths of the junior class. Seniors are eligible for deferment if they are in the upper half of their class or score 75 or better in the Selective Service tests.

Red Cross Plans Christmas Project For U. S. Soldiers

Invites Other Groups, Individuals to Give Gifts for Troops on High Seas

A Christmas on the High Seas project is underway through the local Red Cross Chapter. Mrs. Samuel Adams, chairman, announced today.

Judging of the present trend of progress in the cease-fire talks in Korea and the continuation of battles of the United Nations troops against the Communists, there will be more U. S. troops headed for the Far East around the Christmas holiday season.

And as a result, the local Red Cross Chapter hopes to provide gifts which will be placed aboard troop ships at ports of embarkation on Christmas Day.

In announcing plans for the project, Mrs. Adams said "this is a program that will appeal not only to individuals but to clubs, service groups and other organizations in the community. Gifts contributed will be identified by cards bearing the names of the donors," she added.

Shipments must reach their destination by November 20, Mrs. Adams said, and individuals, clubs, service groups and other organizations interested in contributing packages, are requested to contact the Ulster County Chapter, American Red Cross, telephone 7020, and advise the number of packages to be contributed.

Ask Uniform Packages

The local chairman also pointed out today that for the sake of uniformity, each package should have the same intrinsic value of approximately $2.50 and include no more than six of the following items, exclusive of greeting cards: Greeting card, writing portfolio, pencils with clip, gum or life savers or hard candy in airtight cellophane bags, photograph, crossword puzzle books, joke or cartoon books, small flat clothes brush, wallet, toothbrush, razor blades, pipe and pipe tobacco, stationery, cigarettes, soap, pocket-size books, deck of cards, small games such as dominoes, miniature chess or checkers, oilskin pouch, handkerchiefs, washcloth, camphor ice, nail file and manicure scissors and comb.

Utmost care will be taken, Mrs. Adams said, to see that the packages are inspected and contain only items listed above. The chapter also will attractively wrap each package in Christmas wrapping.

Says Korean Army Almost Wiped Out

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Oct. 13 (AP)—A captured North Korean officer today told United Nations intelligence officers "the North Korean Army now is practically nonexistent."

His statement came as doubt about the 23rd Infantry Regiment scorched out the last 35 Korean Reds holed up in bunkers on the slopes of the northernmost peak of Heartbreak Ridge.

A pooled dispatch from the front said the mopping up action was one of the bitterest of the Korean war.

All across Korea fighting exploded to an extent unequaled since the Reds' offensive last May was crushed.

The North Korean officer gave principal credit to allied artillery which pounded Red positions on Heartbreak Ridge unmercifully for weeks.

Another captured officer said his division of 4,000 men suffered 2,000 casualties in killed or wounded in the 30-day battle for Heartbreak and had been sent only 500 replacements.

New Iran . . .

up its oil nationalization program until there could be such talks. Because of Iran's protest at the implied stigma that the court decision threw on Iran in the dispute, there was a strong indication that at least four countries might side with the Iranian point of view and decide that the council had no right to sit in judgment.

Nations Taking Stand

India, Russia, Yugoslavia and China were rumored to be taking that stand. Some sources reported Ecuador was on the fence.

The U. S. has been trying to get across the idea that a general declaration by the Security Council that the talks should resume—would be an effective instrument for reopening them.

But Fatemi was firm in saying he was not accepting that attitude. It was indicated that when Premier Mohammed Mossadegh makes his five or 10 minute speech in Iranian before the television cameras Monday he will say the same thing.

Early Maneuvers

Warren of California threw down his name mounted a challenge to conservative Republicans in his state.

At Sacramento, the three-term governor who calls himself a progressive Republican, said he welcomed a reported move by party leaders opposed to his policies to field their own delegation at the June presidential primary.

However, Warren made it plain that he invited rival tickets without implications as to his own plans. He was his party's 1948 candidate for vice president, and is generally expected to announce for presidency next year.

Give Blood for Korea

New York, Oct. 13 (AP)—A mass donation of blood by Roman Catholic nuns, priests and brothers in the New York archdiocese got started Friday. A Red Cross mobile unit was set up at St. Vincent's Hospital in downtown Manhattan, and during the first hour's operation, 72 nuns contributed blood. Most of them were teachers from parochial schools. Archbishop Francis Cardinal Spellman, who has called on nuns and clerics in the area to give blood to meet needs in Korea, has estimated that more than 10,000 ecclesiastics will respond.

Says Soviet Backward

Paris, Oct. 13 (AP)—W. Averell Harriman described the Soviet Union yesterday as "economically the most backward of all European countries" and said the North Atlantic nations should have no difficulty outstripping her. The chairman of the Atlantic Council's executive bureau told newsmen that, from intermittent personal observations in Russia since 1926, he is "utterly convinced" the Atlantic allies can develop an effective defense against the Soviets.
